VOL. IX—NO. 2676. NEW-YORK, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 18, 1860. PRICE TWO CENTS.

FROM ALBANY.

Final Passage of the City Railroad Bills Over the Governor's Veto.

Defeat of the Susquehanna Railroad Subsidy.

Appointment of a Captain of the Port for New-York.

THE CITY HALL BILLS PASSED.

Final Abolition of the Almshouse Department.

Adjournment of the Legislature.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

Albany, Tuesday, April 17.

The Madison Park City Hall bill has not yet been signed; it is doubtful if it will be. The same is true of the Insolvent act.

The bill to authorize the sale of the City Hall to the General Government has been signed.

The Tax-levy passed the two houses, with an item in it appropriating $80,000 for the Records Commission. It also contains an item of $5,000 for the Seventh Regiment; also, an item of $1,000 to provide for a survey of the Harlem River.

Before supper both Houses agreed to adjourn at 10 o'clock, and then took a recess until 9 o'clock. At 9 o'clock the Speaker took the Chair, and immediately a motion was made to lay the order of third reading of bills on the table for the purpose of reading the Almshouse bill.

The minority called the Yeas and Nays, and the motion prevailed. In succession all the orders of business were laid on the table down to reports of Standing Committees, when Mr. Pond, from the Committee on Cities and Villages, reported favorably on the Almshouse bill. Mr. McQuade moved to go into Committee of the Whole on the bill. While this motion was pending, the Senate sent for concurrence a resolution postponing the hour of adjournment to 11 o'clock. This was concurred in by the House; and then the House went into Committee of the Whole on the Almshouse bill. Progress was immediately reported, the Committee discharged, and the bill ordered to a third reading, by a vote of 67 to 37. the Clerk read the bill through, and the vote being taken the bill passed—Ayes, 75; Noes, 32. The bill was forthwith signed by the Governor, and is now a law. The success of this measure is immeasurably due to the indefatigable efforts of Simeon Draper and Moses H. Grinnell, who have been untiring in explaining the necessity for the bill, and the abuses of it was designed to correct. The bill was read a third a third time, and transmitted to the Governor just twenty minutes before the hour of adjournment.

As I close this dispatch the final proceedings, leave-takings, returns of thanks, exchange of messages between the Executive and the two Houses are the special order. There is much better feeling among the members than was anticipated a few days since.

The Governor hes yet before him a number of bills unsigned.

Last year he held that he had no right to sign bills after the adjournment. This year, under the advice of the Attorney-General, he will exercise the privilege of signing bills after the dissolution of the Legislature.

The bill to open Madison-avenue for the benefit of the Harlem Railroad is signed.

The New-York Saddle-Horse Club bill is also signed, also the bill to provide for the better observance of the Sabbath. LEO.

SENATE.

Albany, Tuesday, April 17.

Mr. Lawrence, who has been absent from his seat several days on account of severe illness, was present to-day.

The Governor sent in a veto of the Susquehanna Railroad bill, taking ground generally against the constitutionality of the bill, and holding that under any circumstances, a constitutional vote would have been a two-thirds vote.

After the reading of the message, the Clerk announced that it bore no signature.

Mr. Abell thought it best to return it to the Governor, with objections.

Mr. Spinola asked how we could know the veto comes from the Governor?

After discussion, Mr. J. McLeod Murphy said the fairest course to pursue would be to send back the message for the correction of what was evidently a clerical omission.

The Message was returned to the Governor, and was again sent in bearing his signature.

Mr. Ramsay took the floor and spoke long and energetically against the veto, and in favor of passing the bill over the objections of the Governor. He argued from the opinions of Govs. Seward, Dickinson and Raymond, that such an appropriation was not for private and local purposes, and that a majority vote alone was necessary. He assailed the Governor with much bitterness, charging that his course on the question had been marked by shallow and pettifogging conduct. A paragraph in his annual message, stating that he would sign the bill, had been meant for double dealing. It was a trick and a false pretence, meant to make the people believe he was in favor of this improvement, while he hoped and believed the bill would never reach the Executive chamber. He now pretended that he meant he would sign the bill if it passed by a two-thirds vote. How kind and condescending to offer to sign a bill passed over his veto! Was that fair and manly for the Executive to get round the question? He made the question, and was prepared to prove it, that the Governor had brought Executive influence to bear to defeat the bill while it was before the Legislature, and that at least one member has had a veto held up in his face from the Executive chamber in order to influence his vote. If the Governor had succeeded he would have had an opportunity to pretend that he favored the bill, and would have signed it had it passed. Mr. Ramsey continued his argument on the merits of the bill.

Mr. Rotch, in allusion to the charge made by Mr. Ramsey, said it was true that the private secretary of the Governor had endeavored to influence a Senator by the threat of a veto, but a formal complaint had been made to the Governor and the Secretary had apologized for the act, and disclaimed any desire by a threat to influence a vote on the Susquehanna bill. He then spoke in support of the veto.

Messrs. Hammond and Goss spoke against it.

The bill was then passed—16 to 8.

The Washington Market veto was then taken up, and after debate the bill was passed over the veto—19 to 7.

The Senate then took up the veto of the City Railroad bills, and passed them all over the Governor's veto—21 to 9.

The Senate then took up the Assembly bill imposing a tax of one and three-eighths of a mill for the interest on the old Canal debt, which was amended so as to reduce the tax to one and one-eighth of a mill.

The bill was then passed.

The Governor sent in two more vetoes—one on the bill erecting Conhocton County, and the other on the bill legalizing the action of the Common Council respecting James P. Brady's contract on Eighty-third-street, New-York.

The vetoes were laid on the table.

The New-York City Hall bill, which authorizes the sale of the old City Hall to the United States, was passed.

EVENING SESSION.

The Senate met at 9½ P. M.

A bill was introduced and passed, amending the Supply bill so as to correct an error which prevented the officers from drawing their extra pay.

The Clerk was authorized, under the direction of the Joint Library Committee, to publish 1,500 copies of the Journal of the Legislative Council for the years 1691 to 1776, provided the entire cost to the State would not exceed the sum of $3,500.

Messrs. Goss and Grant were appointed to wait on the Governor, and Messrs. Lapham and Connolly to wait on the Assembly, to inform them that the Senate was ready to adjourn.

The usual parting address was made by Lieut.-Gov. Campbell, when the Senate adjourned sine die.

ASSEMBLY.

Albany, Tuesday, April 17.

The Assembly took up the veto of the Governor on the West Washington Market bill, and passed the bill over the veto of the Governor by a vote of 73 to 29.

The bill in relation to the new County of Canisteo was taken from the table.

Mr. Callicot would not undertake to sustain all the points of the veto, but as a faithful representative of one of the most populous counties in the State, he found it his duty to vote against erecting a County out of Steuben. He argued to show the injustice to New-York and Kings in making these new counties.

The House then sustained the veto, and the bill was lost.

BILLS PASSED.

To incorporate the City Library Association.

To provide for opening Sylvan-street, New-York.

Mr. Van Horn, from the Select Committee appointed to examine into the State Prison contracts for convicts labor, reported the testimony, coupled with a resolution recommending the Attorney-General to examine the contracts and see if they needed reforming. Nothing that reflects in the slightest degree on the integrity or efficiency of the State Prison Inspectors is intended. The matter is simply one of technicality.

Mr. Fisher moved a vote of thanks to the officers of the House, which was adopted unanimously.

The bill to establish a Nautical School in New-York was lost by 45 to 38, and a motion to reconsider tabled.

The Assembly sustained the Governor's veto on the Albany and Susquehanna Railroad bill by a vote of 55 to 48; so the bill is dead.

An attempt was made to reconsider the vote on the new County of Canesteo, but the motion was ruled out of order.

The House receded from its amendment, striking out from the New-York Tax Levy the items relative to the Record Commissioners. The amendment agreed to directs the payment of the contractors if the Court decide in their favor.

The New-York Police Court bill was passed.

The House concurred in the Senate's amendment allowing the City of New-York to sell part of the Park to the United States.

The Steuben Monument Association bill was passed.

The bill to preserve the public peace on Sunday was passed.

The Flatbush-avenue grade bill was passed.

The bill to amend the act to suppress intemperance was lost.

The House amended the Senate's resolution so as to adjourn at 10 o'clock to-night.

Mr. McQuade moved to lay the pending order on the table, so as to take up reports. His object, and he wished Republicans to understand it, was to get in the New-York Almshouse bill.

A recess to 9½ o'clock was moved. Lost, by 46 to 59.

Mr. Van Horn them moved a recess till 9 o'clock. Carried.

The House met at 9 o'clock. After a bill was passed correcting several clerical errors in the Supply bill, the several orders of business were laid upon the table, the Democrats calling the Yeas and Nays on each question, with the purpose of preventing the order of reports to be reached, when it was known it was the purpose of the Republicans to report the bill to reorganise the New-York Almshouse Department. It was near 10 o'clock before reports were reached, when the Senate sent down a resolution extending the hour of final adjournment to 11 o'clock. This gave a full hour to accomplish the arranged work of the evening.

Mr. Pond reported the bill. It was sent to the Committee of the Whole, passed through, ordered to a third reading, and after various fruitless efforts on the part of the minority, the bill was passed by 75 to 32—several Democrats voting for the bill.

The usual Committees to inform the Senate and the Governor that the House was ready to adjourn, were appointed, and the Speaker addressed the House in a feeling manner, and declared the House adjourned sine die.

THE CLOSE OF THE SESSION.

THE TRIUMPH OF THE VETOED RAILROAD BILLS—VOTE ON THE SUSQUEHANNA RAILROAD BILL—THE CITY HALL BILL—THE NEW CAPTAIN OF THE PORT—A STATE TAX OF THREE AND THREE-QUARTER MILLS—RAILROAD TOLLS.

Albany, Monday, April 16.

We have had a memorable twenty-four hours here—hours that have witnessed more extraordinary legislative results than were ever crowded into the same space.

As I telegraphed you yesterday morning, the Governor, in his wisdom, thought proper to transmit to the Assembly, with his veto, the five bills to authorize the construction of City Railroads. The veto was laid on the table, and the House went on with the usual routine business, until evening, when the veto message was taken up and the several bills passed, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor, by a vote of Ayes, 81; Noes, 25.

Then the House passed the Houston-street Road, which had been amended in the Senate so as to conform to the views expressed by the Governor in his veto message.

This morning the ball opened in the Senate, when the Governor transmitted a veto of the Albany and Susquehanna Railroad bill. Senator Ramsey, the champion of the bill, made a speech, in which he charged the Executive with duplicity, with attempting to dictate to the coördinate branches of the Government, and with usurping the powers of the legislative and judicial departments. Messrs. Hammond, Goss and Colvin spoke in favor of the bill, and Mr. Bell against it. The vote being taken, the bill passed, over the veto—ayes, 16; noes, 8—as follows:

Ayes—Messrs. Abell, Blood, Colvin, Connolly, Gardiner, Goss, Grant, Hammond, Kelly, Manierre, Murphy, Ramsey, Robertson, Rotch, Spinola, Warner—16.

Noes—Messrs. Bell, Ferry, Hillhouse, Montgomery, Murphy, Richmond, Truman, Williams—8.

The bill went down to the House, and was there lost—ayes 57, noes 48—it requiring two-thirds to pass it over the veto.

The next move in the Senate was to take from the table the veto of the bill to authorize the State to sell West Washington Market to the City. There was no discussion, and the bill passed over the Governor—ayes 19, noes 8—as follows:

Ayes—Messrs. Abell, Blood, Colvin, Connolly, Ferry, Gardiner, Grant Hammond, Ketcham, Lapham, Lawrence, Munroe, Ramsey, Richmond, Robertson, Rotch, Sessions, Spinola, Warner—19.

Noes—Messrs. Bell, Goss, Hillhouse, Kelly, McGraw, Manierre, P. P. Murphy, Truman—8.

The bill went to the House and also passed that to-day, despite the Executive objections, ayes 74, noes 29, as follows:

Yeas—Messrs. B. Allen, Arcularius, Barden, Bixby, Bouman, Briggs, Burns, Bush, Cadwell, P. Clark, Coles, Coonley, Cornelius, Crane, Crocker, Culver, Dorcy, Decker, Dorsch, Ellsworth, Evans, Fulton, Garrettson, Gibbs Gover, Hall, Harris, Hoskins, Jeffords, Jennings, Jewell, Jewett, Jones, Johnson, C. Kelsey, Kennedy, Kartright, Law, McArthur, McQuade, Maxson, Merselis, Miller Millington Morgan, Moulton, Austin Myres, A. A. Myers, Odell, O'Rourke, Payne, Peck, Pelton, Perry, Pond, Regan, Rider, St. John, Searles, Servis, Slingerland, A. Smith, J. M. Smith, W. M. Smith, Speaker, Stilson, Van Alstyne, Vermilye, Voorhees, Walsh, Whipple, Woodruff, Yeury—74.

Nays—Messrs Barnett, Callicot, Coleman, Collins, Conkling, Dwight, Finch, Fisher, Flagler, Holcomb, Hough, Hubbell, Jakway, Jaques, McFadden, Masterson, Merritt, Newell, Palmer, Petit, Plumb, Powell, Richardson, H. Smith, Taber, Tucker, Van Horn, Varian, Williams—29.

The Senate having disposed of all the veto messages that had been transmitted directly from the Executive Chambers, next took up the City Railroads, which had been transmitted from the Assembly.

They all passed, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor, by an average of Ayes, 21; Nays, 9. I give the vote on each, to gratify the curiosity of those interested:

AVENUE D.

Ayes—Messrs. Abell, Blood, Colvin, Connolly, Fiero, Gardiner, Grant, Hammond, Ketcham, Lapham, Lawrence, Munroe, J. M. Murphy, Ramsey, Richmond, Robertson, Rotch, Sessions, Spinola, Warner. Williams—21.

Noes—Messrs. Bell, Goss, Hillhouse, Kelly, McGraw, Manierre, Montgomery, P. P. Murphy, Truman—9.

FOURTEENTH-STREET.

Ayes—Messrs. Abell, Blood, Colvin, Connolly, Ferry, Fiero, Gardiner, Grant, Hammond, Ketcham, Lapham Lawrence, J. M. Murphy, Ramsey, Richmond, Robertson, Rotch, Sessions, Spinola, Warner, Williams—21.

Noes—Messrs. Bell, Goss, Hillhouse, Kelly, McGraw, Manniere, Montgomery, P. P. Murphy, Truman—9.

SEVENTH AVENUE.

Ayes—Messrs. Abell, Blood, Colvin, Connolly, Ferry, Fiero, Gardiner, Grant, Hammond, Ketcham, Lapham, Lawrence, J. M. Murphy, Ramsey, Richmond, Robertson, Rotch, Sessions, Spinola, Warner, Williams—21.

Noes—Messrs. Bell, Goss, Hillhouse, Kelly, McGraw, Manierre, Montgomery, P. P. Murphy, Truman—9.

TENTH-AVENUE.

Yeas—Messrs. Abell, Blood, Colvin, Connolly, Ferry, Fiero, Gardiner, Grant, Hammond, Ketcham, Lapham, Lawrence, J. M. Murphy, Ramsey, Richmond, Robertson, Rotch, Sessions, Spinola, Warner, Williams—21.

Nays—Messrs. Bell, Goss, Hillhouse, Kelly, McGraw, Manierre, Montgomery, P. P. Murphy, Truman—9.

SOUTH AND WEST STREETS.

Yeas—Mr. Abell, Mr. Blood, Mr. Colvin, Mr. Connolly, Mr. Ferry, Mr. Fiero, Mr. Gardiner, Mr. Grant Mr. Hammond, Mr. Ketcham, Mr. Lapham Mr. Lawrence, Mr. Munroe, Mr. J. M. Murphy, Mr. Ramsey, Mr. Richmond, Mr. Robertson, Mr. Rotch, Mr. Sessions, Mr. Spinola, Mr. Warner, Mr. Williams—22.

Nays—Mr. Bell, Mr. Goss, Mr. Hillhouse Mr. Kelly, Mr. McGraw, Mr. Mannierre, Mr. Montgomery, Mr. P. P. Murphy, Mr. Truman—9.

You will see that in each case Messrs. Connolly and J. M. Murphy voted in the affirmative, and Messrs. Manierre and Kelly in the negative, and that every Democrat, except Kelly, voted for the bills; so that whatever else may be said of these projects, it will not be charged that they were passed entirely by the dominant party.

Thus were cleared away all the vetoes incumburing the table of the two Houses—but they would not stay cleared, for in a few moments in came "the Private Secretary of his Excellency, the Governor,' with a couple more. One was a disapproval of the bill to create the new County of Canisteo, and the other a disapproval of a bill to legalize certain acts of your Common Council relative to a contract for grading Eighty-third-street. Both vetoes were laid on the table.

The bill to levy a mill and an eighth tax to pay the interest on the State debt was passed.

The Senate also passed the bill to authorize the City of New-York to sell the City Hall and Park to the General Government, for a Post-office and United States Courts. The vote was, ayes 20, noes 2—Messrs. Connolly, Kelly and J. Murphy voting aye.

Beyond what I have mentioned, there was nothing done in the House of any moment, except an attempt to get up the Almshouse bill, which failed, very decisively—so that is gone in.

The adjournment will take place about 10 o'clock—there or thereabouts. The Senate is waiting for the House, and both for the Governor to read up and determine what he will do with the mass of bills that he has in his room.

The bill to create a Captain of the Port, having been approved, the Governor nominated and the Senate confirmed Archibald Hall, to fill the office created. Robert Murray, who was a candidate, withdrew in favor of Mr. Hall.

The legislation is more snug up than usual. This morning the Senate went through all the orders, and virtually cleaned off the calendar.

What has been lost in the Committees, it is not possible to discover. But one bill of general interest that I know of is missing—that is the bill to make divorce easy. The House Judiciary Committee fobbed that.

The Insolvent Act had not been signed by the Governor at 2 o'clock. There appears to be some belief that the Governor will not give it his approval.

You can hardly imagine the joy that reigns supreme in the vicinity of the Capitol. I am not that the joy and gladness does not approach very near the Executive chamber, though of course it does not enter there.

It is anticipated that the question of Tolls, settled here in the Senate, will break out in the State Convention to-morrow, and rage furiously. The friends of that measure swear terribly, and threaten decided action. Probably they will subside before the soothing admonitions of party leaders who are interested on the other side I do not give the Toll men credit for much decision or nerve. Had they possessed either, or both, they would have compelled their leaders to leave the worship of the Railroad gods, and take service with the people.

It may be as well to mention that through the loss of the Toll bill, the State tax the coming year will be three and three-quarter mills on the dollar. Nothing to me, but it may interest some of your City millionaires. LEO.

THE JERSEY CITY MURDER.

The Remains not yet Identified—Continuation of the Inquest—Cries of Murder Heard.

The excitement in regard to the mysterious murder of an unknown female found at the York-street Dock on Saturday last, continues unabated, and as the facts become more generally known, inquiries from persons who have missing friends, come from all directions. Owing to the rapid decomposition of the remains, the undertaker, Mr. Hope, caused them to be interred at the New-York Bay Cemetery yesterday. Previously, Dr. Quidor, the City Physician, removed the head, which he has preserved in spirits, for identification. The Doctor, on examination, found a small scar close behind the left ear, apparently caused by a running sore. The left eye was also found to have been affected.

During the forenoon over thirty persons called at Dr Quidor's office in Washington street, with a view of identifying the body—they having missing friends or acquaintances answering the description given. Amongst them was a Mrs. Kelvin, who keeps an intelligence office at the corner of Grand and Christie streets, New-York. She states that three weeks ago last Saturday, a young woman giving her name as Kirley, from Boston, came to her house for the purpose of procuring a situation. The girl stated that her mother keeps a boarding-house in Boston, and that she left home in consequence of having a step-father with whom she could not agree. On the Monday following, Miss Kirley went to take a situation at a house in East Broadway, but not liking the place, returned again. After dinner she changed her clothing, putting on a silk skirt, with blue groundwork, red crimson merino bodice, trimmed with black velvet, short sleeves, new gaiters and stockings. She then went out, and has not since been seen, or heard of. She left behind her old clothes and two Boston brass baggage-checks. Mrs. Kelvin thinks the features of the deceased are an exact resemblance to those of the missing girl, and the description as to her size and form also agree. She also noticed that Miss Kirley had a defect in her eye, and when in the presence of young men, averted her face in order to conceal it.

A German named Jacob Harman, of New-York, called to see the remains, having a daughter missing for the past three months. At the time, she came over to Jersey City to see the Captain of a schooner, and he had not since seen or heard any tidings of her. The features of the face and the description were similar to those of his daughter He thought, however, that instead of an eye tooth being missing it was the one next to it.

John Trainor, formerly a resident of Providence, R. I., has a wife, who was addicted to intemperance, missing since the 6th inst., at which time she was discharged from Blackwell's Island. The description answered exactly, except that the front teeth were separated sufficiently to admit of inserting a pin between them; those of deceased were close together.

Detective Officer Roach yesterday found, at No. 242 Water-street, the former servant girl of the gentleman heretofore mentioned as doing business in Chambers-street and living in Jersey City, who left her employer's residence so mysteriously about ten days ago. The missing girl was reported as having a mark behind one of her ears corresponding with that found behind the left ear of the deceased. It was believed, from this fact, that the two might be identical. The name of the servant girl referred to is Emma Heslehan. She says she ran away with her lover. The room was densely crowded.

Joseph H. Strober testified that a German woman came to the Cunard Dock six or seven weeks ago, and inquired for a lighter which was loading there; he directed her to the York-street pier, and saw nothing more of her; this was between six and seven P. M.; he could not identify the body.

Mr B. F. Woolsey testified that he lost two barrels of pitch from a number which he had had landed on the York-street pier on Jan 4; the officers dragged yesterday for the missing barrels, and thought that there was one in the water, but did not get it up

John Heron, who resides at No 18 York-street, testified that on March 26 or 27, between the hours of one and three A. M., he heard cries of "Murder," which seemed to come from a female; he got up and looked out of the window and saw four or five persons; heard a female voice say, "I'm stabbed; he'll kill me;" one of the men said, "No, go along with him, he'll not hurt you;" she said, "No, no, he ll kill me;" they proceeded on down towards Hudson street, the woman all the time screaming; that was the last witness saw of them; they were going in the direction of the York-street Pier; witness is a brakeman on the New York and Erie Railroad; did not go out to render assistance as he was afraid of harm.

Dr. Quidor testified: I made a post-mortem examination of the body of an unknown woman, in connection with Dr. Reeves; I found on opening the chest large masses of coagulated blood between the muscles and ribs; in particular on the left side it was almost like liver—thickly clotted; it must have been caused by some strong force applied outside; there was a fracture of the left collar-bone where it was united with the breast-bone; it was pressed about an inch and a half lower than the bone on the right side; there were likewise three large bruises upon the external surface on the left side; in carrying the dissection down further through the abdomen, the whole interior part, muscles of the belly on both sides, showed four or five spots, as though it had been kicked; there was coagulated blood here, the same as on the chest; the lungs were congested and filled with blood, as if death had been produced in some very rapid manner, before the body had been thrown into the water; the liver and heart were in a natural condition; the womb was not impregnated; there is a scar under the left ear, having the appearance of a round hole, about the size of a large shot; about one-fourth of an inch back of this was another hole about the size of a pigeon-shot; the large hole penetrated into the skull; these marks seemed to be of long standing as if they had been the outlet of matter collected back of the ear; the right eye-tooth, upper jaw, was depressed backwards—not on; ton the left side upper jaw, the tooth next back of the eye-tooth was broken off level with the gum, and the tooth under, on the same side, was broken off; both ears were pierced for ear-rings, the left ear with the hole torn out—a long-standing affair—and a new hole pierced above; I should think she was a German or English woman, between 25 and 30 years of age; she did not present the appearance of a drunkard or a woman of bad character; should think she had been from 10 to 14 days in the water.

DETAILS OF THE NEW HOMESTEAD BILL.

Mr. Conkling, of Newyork, on Slavery and the Supreme Court.

INTERESTING FROM THE RIO GRANDE.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

Washington, Tuesday, April 17.

THE TROUBLES ON THE TEXAN FRONTIER.

The War Department is in receipt of interesting dispatches from the Rio Grande. Information having been given by Gen. Garcia that Cortinas had again made his appearance on the Mexican side of the river, Capt. Ford, with his Rangers, was ordered to cross over and attack him. In his report, Capt. Ford says:

"We crossed the river with all the disposable force at our command, but instead of finding Cortinas with forty men, as reported by the commanding officer at Matamoras, we found a body of troops claiming to be National Guards. Shots were exchanged before we found who our opponents were, and I regret to say that one Mexican soldier and one woman were wounded, the latter mortally, while closing a door from which an officer was firing at the cavalry as they were passing the house. None of our men were wounded, but they lost four horses. * * * * * While taking breakfast within a few hundred yards of the ranchero, a command numbering one hundred and fifty men arrived, and the commander asked a conference. We informed him that we were after Cortinas, and that we had been informed officially that he was in Mora, with forty men or more. He said he was on the same duty. We learned that he had been watching us during the last night and day. This, together with the conduct of the troops, led us to believe that he intended to attack us, but found our united force too strong to venture it."

Maj. Heintzelman says:

"I have no doubt the authorities of Matamoras are sincere in their efforts to arrest Cortinas, but I more than doubt the fidelity of their troops. Cortinas, or some of his men, have recently been in the interior, and it is generally believed that he is in communication with the Miramon Party. If this party should gain the ascendancy in Matamoras, I doubt if the force at my disposal would be sufficient to protect this frontier."

To Adjt.-Gen. Cooper, Maj. Heintzelman says:

"The operation in Mexico was conducted with much energy. Cortinas has left for Burgos, and it is not believed that he will again venture to concentrate a force in the vicinity of the Rio Grande."

THE PONY EXPRESS TO CALIFORNIA.

The letter from Great Salt Lake City, lately published in the New-York Herald, represents that the "Pony Express" runs not on Capt. Simpson's route from Camp Floyd to California, but on Chorpenning's. This is not the whole truth. For the first 67 miles from Camp Floyd to Short-cut Pass, it runs on Capt. Simpson's route of the Fall of 1858; thence to Hasting's Pass, 167 miles on Chorpenning's extension of Capt. Simpson's route; thence to Genoa, in Carson Valley, it runs for 200 miles entirely on Capt. Simpson's outward route of 1859. Thus it will be peceived that the express runs for more than two-thirds of the whole distance on Capt. Simpson's outward route. Capt. Simpson's inward route is an entirely new one, and though a trifle longer than his outward, is regarded as the best; but for the reason that the mail company had already placed station-houses on Chorpenning's portion of his outward route, there is a disposition to decry the inward, so as to keep the mail as it is. But the truth is, that both are good routes, and to Capt. Simpson belongs the credit of opening them both to the public.

THE APPROACHING CONVENTION.

Both Houses of Congress refused to adjourn by decided majorities. Senators Slidell and Bright leave to-morrow for Charleston, and it is understood will bid high for votes against Douglas. Mr. Slidell assured a Northern delegate to-day that the North might insert Squatter Sovereignty into the Charleston Platform if they would only ignore Douglas. Delegates continue to arrive, and our city is full of life; yet no other name is heard mentioned as likely to be prominent at Charleston but Douglas.

THE CORRUPTION INVESTIGATION.

The Covode Investigating Committee examined to-day four Pennsylvania clerks in the General Land-office, who testified that they were taxed to meet political expenses in 1858 in Pennsylvania, and that an additional assessment was afterwards made. Mr. Train being absent no other witnesses were called, although a large number are in attendance.

Mr. Hoard's Committee has been waiting for final action on the President's protest, but will to-morrow hold a preliminary meeting and commence the investigation, which will be thorough, as Mr. Hoard will make no compromise with corruption.

THE TREATIES.

The Republican Senators hold a caucus to-morrow morning on matters connected with the treaties now pending before them. If Mr. Simmons' proposed amendments prove satisfactory, the Mexican treaty will be taken up at once and ratified. The Nicaraguan treaty will soon follow.

THE JAPANESE COMMISSIONERS.

Nothing official has been heard from the Japanese Commissioners, though the dispatches by the Pony Express are expected to-morrow morning. Several of the Naval Officers who have accompanied them on the voyage will be detailed to take charge of them during their sojourn here. Our Japan Expedition was originated by Aaron Haight Palmer, and to-day the House Committee on Claims unanimously voted him $3,000 compensation. Hon. Alfred Ely is absent on a flying trip home, but returns on Friday.

CONFIRMATIONS.

The Senate to-day confirmed the nomination of Mr English as Marshal of Indiana, and a large number of military promotions.

PROSPECTS OF MR. DOUGLAS.

Messrs. Stephens, Fessenden, Butler and Wright, of Massachusetts, delegation to Charleston, say they cannot be bought up by Geo. Whitney, Collector of Customs at Boston, to oppose Senator Douglas' nomination.

From Another Correspondent.

SLIDELL PROPOSES TO BUY UP THE CHARLESTON CONVENTION.

Look out for Houmas. Slidell leaves to-morrow morning for Charleston, to open an office for trafficking in human flesh. He goes full-handed, and willing to pay the highest price in cash for voters: say $1,000 each. When figures are over this sum, payment will be deferred, or made in offices at cash value. The eyes of the whole Convention will be on Slidell, and his wholesale effort to use money to buy up delegates will react on him and his friends, Bright and Company. An effort will also be made to bluff Northern men, by asserting that Alabama and several other Southern States will not support Douglas, if nominated; but the latest dodge is an arrangement by which, when all other tricks fail, the Charleston Mercury is to announce the sudden reappearance of yellow fever, and thus drive off Northern delegates. Gentlemen, your sleight of hand will fail you. Look to Slidell, Bright and Company.

OLD DOMINION.

From the Associated Press.

Washington, Tuesday, April 17.

The President to-day transmitted to the Senate copies of additional correspondence with foreign Governments concerning the rights of American naturalized citizens abroad. It is conducted throughout in good temper, the United States in all cases repudiating the doctrine of perpetual allegiance. It appears from these documents that twelve years ago the British Government, at the instance of Minister Bancroft, released two naturalized Irishmen who were suspected of aiding in the rebellion and of being engaged in "treasonable practices." Lord Palmerston, however, declared "that foreign born subjects of Great Britain, who may have become naturalized in a foreign country, but who return to the United Kingdom, are as amenable as any other of her Majesty's subjects to any laws which may be in force, either of a permanent or temporary nature."

The Senate to-day confirmed Maj. Elisha G. English as United States Marshal for Indiana.

The New-Orleans Picayune of Saturday contains an extract from a private letter, dated Mexico, March 28, stating that the British Minister has proposed a truce of six months, at the utmost, during which a Congress is to be elected by the different States of the Republic. This Congress is to be united in Jalapa, which is to be declared neutral ground, under the protection of the English Government, and, if necessary, of English troops. The Congress voted by the nation is to make a new Constitution, which will be recognized, protected and enforced by England. The Clergy disapprove of the proposition, but if they refuse it the English Minister will immediately take his passports and leave for Vera Cruz, where he will recognize the Juarez Government.

SENATE.

Washington, Tuesday, April 17.

A message was received from the President inclosing a communication from the Secretary of War, in reply to a resolution asking for information as to the seizure and impressment of naturalized citizens by foreign governments. The communication was not read, but was ordered to be printed.

Mr. Wilson, of Massachusetts, (Rep.,) introduced a joint resolution authorizing the collection and publication of the records and documents relating to the history of the colonization of America by commercial companies in England incorporated in 1606. Referred to the Committee on the Library.

Mr. Lane, of Oregon, (Dem.,) introduced a bill to perfect the titles of land in California on which the United States have erected fortifications.

A discussion ensued on the question of reference, but it was finally referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

Mr. Trumbull, of Illinois, (Rep.,) called up the proposition to refer the memorial of Mr. Sanborn—that being unfinished business of yesterday—and it was referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Mr. Cameron, of Pennsylvania, (Rep.,) presented a memorial in favor of a modification of the Tariff.

Mr. Kennedy, of Maryland, (American,) gave notice of a bill for the transportation of the mails by railroad to the Pacific.

Mr. Gwin, of California, (Dem.,) introduced a bill to provide for taking private property for public use, and providing just compensation therefor. Referred.

Mr. Hale, of New-Hampshire, (Rep.,) moved to take up his resolution for a recess of Congress from the 19th of April to the 22d of May.

Mr. Clingman, of North Carolina, (Dem.,) moved an amendment, making the time from the 19th of April to the 1st of May.

The Chair announced that the hour had arrived for the special order.

Mr. Hale moved to postpone all prior orders and consider his resolution.

Mr. Gwin asked for the yeas and nays.

The motion was agreed to by yeas 27, nays 25.

Mr. Trumbull hoped if Congress adjourn at all, it would be over both Conventions. He was, however, opposed to any adjournment at all.

Mr. Bayard, of Delaware, (Dem.,) thought it best to adjourn from the 19th to the 30th of April, and from the 12th to the 21st of May, so as to provide for both Conventions. No business would be done, and Congress had better adjourn.

Mr. Clingman modified his amendment substituting the 30th of April for the 1st of May.

Mr. Dixon, of Connecticut, (Rep.,) moved to amend the amendment by adding that Congress adjourn sine die on the 4th of June.

Mr. Pugh, of Ohio, (Dem.,) moved to lay the whole subject on the table. Lost.

Mr. Dixon's amendment was lost by Yeas, 18; Nays, 31.

Mr. Hale offered an amendment, fixing the hour of adjournment on Thursday, at 2 P. M. Adopted.

The question recurring on the resolution as amended, it was rejected, by yeas 20, nays 30.

Mr. Slidell, of Louisiana, (Dem.,) offered a resolution providing for an adjournment of the Senate every three days, from the 19th inst to the 1st of May. Laid over.

The Senate had an executive session, after which Mr. Johnson, of Tennessee, (Dem.,) from the Committee on Public Lands, reported back the Homestead bill, as modified by the Committee.

Mr. Johnson, of Arkansas, (Dem.,) explained the differences in the present bill and that originally presented. The first difference was as to the class of persons provided for. The original bill gave lands to heads of families and all persons over twenty-one; this only to heads of families. The second difference was, requiring the payment of twenty-five cents per acre; the original gave the lands absolutely away. Twenty-five cents per acre was the actual cost of the lands to the Government. The amended bill further required five years' residence, and an actual title to be given at the expiration of that time, the price fixed being then paid; the House bill required a consecutive residence of five years, but the titles were not given till two years afterwards. Further the Senate bill only included lands open to private entry, while the House bills opens all land subject to preëmption. The Senate bill also required a constant settlement on the land for five years, and prohibits any sale, transfer or abandonment, upon penalty of forfeiture. The House bill allowed the settler to sell it at the end of five years, or to abandon it for two years and then dispose of it. The House bill further provided that a homestead shall not be liable for any debt contracted prior to the seven years of occupancy. The Senate bill provided that the land shall not be sold for debt of the settler until the United States parts with the title. The Senate bill further required an alien to file his declaration of intention to become a citizen before he could avail himself of the benefits of the bill. The effect of this was to restrict the operation of the act to citizens of the United States and heads of families. Mr. Johnson argued at some length in favor of the new bill, pointing out its advantages over the House bill. It gave the settler a right at any time within five years to perfect his title, by paying the Government price. He read a statement from the Commissioner of the Land Office, showing that under the donation act, passed in regard to Oregon and Florida, over seventy per cent. of the settlers availed themselves of the provisions of the acts, and remained on the land, petitioned Congress to allow them to pay the Government price, and perfect their titles before the expiration of the period of four years, at the end of which they would obtain the title without paying anything. In the case of Florida 211,360 acres were seized upon under the grant made by Congress. Of these 138,400 acres were afterwards abandoned and forfeited to the Government. He called attention to another provision in the amended bill not embraced in the House bill, which compels the sale of surveyed public lands two years after the surveys are made. The last provision of the amended bill was that lands in any State remaining unsold after thirty-five years should be ceded to the States in which they lie.

Mr. Gwin offered an amendment, legalizing the occupancy of the mineral lands in California and Oregon by citizens of the United States, or persons who have declared their intention to become citizens.

Mr. Mason, of Virginia, (Dem.,) wanted to know if miners on the Government lands had been troubled by any one?

Mr. Gwin said no.

Mr. Mason thought it better to adhere to the old Roman maxim, "Let things at rest remain at rest."

Mr. Gwin avowed that the object of his amendment was to drive out coolie labor from the mines, and confine it to agriculture.

The bill was then laid aside, to receive a message from the President.

The bill for the relief of Valentine Wehrheim, a blind and deaf soldier of the Army, was received from the House, with an amendment increasing the pension to $25 per month.

Mr. Thompson, of New-Jersey, (Dem.,) said Wehrheim was a common soldier, receiving $8 per month at the time he received the wound which caused his infirmities. The Committee of the Senate had granted him $16 per month, but the House now raised it to $25. He hoped it would be voted down. If not, the Committee on Pensions might as well be abolished.

Mr. Toombs, of Georgia, (Dem.,) had abandoned all hope of stopping the profligate expenditure of public money; he only wanted it done decently and regularly. He moved for its reference to the Committee of Pensions. Carried.

The message from the President was read. It proved to be a veto on the bill for the relief of Arthur Edwards and his associates, who carried mails on the Northern Lakes from 1849 to 1853. The President says: "In 1854, the parties presented the bill for these services, amounting to $25,000, which the Post-master-General rejected; they then went to the Court of Claims with a claim of $50,000, which decided on it adversely." The bill passed for their relief amounts to $80,000.

Mr. Hale moved to refer it to the Post-office Committee.

Mr. Bingham, of Michigan, (Rep.,) explained the nature of the services rendered by Capt. Edwards, and argued in favor of the justice of his claim.

Further discussion followed, in which Mr. Mason expressed the opinion that such reference was not in accordance with the provisions of the constitution.

Without action on it, the House adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Washington, Tuesday, April 17.

Mr. Schwartz, of Pennsylvania, (Anti-Lecompton Dem.,) offered a resolution which was read for information, instructing the Committee on Public Expenditures to report a bill reducing the compensation of members of Congress to $8 per diem for each day of actual service; and providing, also, that when both Houses, by joint resolution, adjourn to attend a political Convention, the members voting therefor shall not receive pay during the recess. [Laughter.]

Mr. Sherman, of Ohio, (Rep.,) objected to the resolution.

Mr. Houston, of Alabama, (Dem.,) understood that some gentlemen draw their pay when paired off and absent. If so, he wanted this abuse corrected.

The House went into Committee on the Deficiency Appropriation bill.

Mr. Conkling, of New-York, (Rep.)—Mr. Chairman—I purpose, Sir, to confine my remarks to that portion of the last annual Message of the President wherein he states that the fate of all Territories of the Republic have been irrevocably sealed by the action of the Courts of law. This announcement is a very extraordinary one, and never could have been made had our institutions been purely elective. Objectionable as such a principle must have appeared to our fathers, it would have preserved the American Congress forever from receiving such a greeeting as the present Executive has lately sent to us. With no power or authority save those conferred directly and solely by the people, and these deprived of the elements of growth by provisions uprooting them at frequent intervals, that age of the Government would never have arrived when the Judicial tribunal would attempt in the sense implied by the President of the United States, a final settlement of this great political question. Certainly no such attempt would have been based upon the theories falsifying the history of the country, and calculated to enthrone barbarism in every territorial possession of the Republic, if not in the States themselves. But, Sir, the checks and balances adjusted by our fathers have proved inadequate to avert so strange a contingency. The Government had not reached the allotted years of manhood when the Judicial Department attempted all I have said. In a case presenting the simple right of one poor plaintiff to maintain this action, the Supreme Court had undertaken to fix forever the most sacred rights of millions. To be sure the step was premature. The citizenship of the plaintiff was the only point under consideration, and that being determined adversely to him, the case was at an end; but, notwithstanding, opinions upon the subject swelled into a museum of discussion, which, however it may have distinguished the debaters, deserves no relevancy as law. The formal want of authority in this discussion is practically important, however, as far as it gives power to events, and enables us to determine clearly and calmly the constitutional rights and limitations of the Court. But an occasion must soon arise for imparting the forms of law to these premonitory manifestos. Should it arise during the existence of the present Bench, it will be eagerly embraced, and then will be presented the question, the gravest which the present generation will be called on to solve. In its first approach it will settle the question between Slavery and Freedom. But it will turn out eventually to be a conflict between prerogatives and power—a collision of enduring forces, affecting more or less the fate of every popular right. A powerful party will be found maintaining that the Supreme Court is endowed with authority to say what laws Congress shall and shall not enact; and when once this authority has been exercised, neither the Executive nor Congress may overstep the limits prescribed. On the other hand, a political organization representing eternal principles will cry out against the imperial assumption, and the issue will stretch far beyond even the undiscovered confines of the one all-pervading question of human slavery. Should the Court party prevail, and the Constitution be held to endow the Judges with a censorship over Congress, it will lead to a bold usurpation of the leading statesmanship of half a century, to ostracise the most numerous and most liberal party in the country, and to set up a dogma repugnant to the material interests of the nation and abhorrent to the convictions of the civilized world. The question of Slavery was determined in this country long ago. Inspired by the great conception in which the foundation of the Government was laid, conscious of the exalted purposes it was intended to subserve, profoundly instructed in all its great principles, the men who inaugurated the Constitution pursued no ambiguous or deviating course on the subject of Slavery. The earlier hours of Congress were spent in devising a cure for this then universally admitted evil. The statesmen of all parties concurred in treating involuntary servitude as a stationary, not as a progressive institution, and the Federal Legislature, with a strong arm, was invoked to prevent its territorial encroachments. The warranty for this policy was found in the Constitution, and every free sentiment of the country demanded it and vitalized it. That sentiment has been on continual increase. Deploring Slavery as a sad national calamity, reflecting that it is a barbarous and detestable crime, the inhabitants of the Free States have ever sought, by moral and by political force, to prevent its increase and expansion. These efforts have been from time to time stayed by concessions and compromises; but now, Sir, it would be idle and fruitless to deny that, with regard to Slavery, a great change has come upon the country. In connection with this question, outrages and riots have occurred, blood has been shed upon distant fields, scenes of riot and brutality have been enacted in this Capitol, bravado has reigned in this very hall, until the public mind has been lashed into a state of intense excitement; and now it is determined that from this time forth we shall, in connection with the question of Slavery, have results and not arguments, issues and not compromises. The Free States insist that Slavery shall remain localized in the Slaveholding States; and even with regard to Slavery in the South, there lives a hope that in its abiding place there it will wither and die. This is, indeed, the prayer of humanity—not the cry of a party. But, Sir, the Supreme Court asserts that every acre of the territorial possessions is already the prey of Slavery: and, in the language of the President, neither Congress nor the Territorial Legislature, nor any human authority whatever, has any right to annul or impair this vested right of Slavery over the Territories. Such, no doubt, will be the decision of the present men; and the resolution which sustains it will carry bondage into every State in the Republic. The whole subject has been brought before us and the conviction of the public mind is deep enough to lay the foundation of a great conflict between the legislative and the judicial powers. The controversy will derive serious importance from its immediate results, but still more from the equilibrium, or preponderance, it is destined to establish among the three great forces of the Government. I will not discuss the decision of Judge Taney in the Dred Scott case, nor will I pronounce the law as laid down therein, good law or bad law. My business is with the power of the Supreme Court, not with its wisdom. My object is to ascertain whether the decisions of the Judiciary are binding upon the law-making power of the Government, and if not binding, how far they shall influence legislative action. The War of Indepence was undertaken and waged to redress a single grievance—that was the passing and enforcement of a law not instituted by those who were expected to obey it; and, therefore, it may be said that the Revolution accomplished but a single reform—that was, to endow the colonies with sovereign rights, to make or unmake or modify their laws and institutions. The men who died for these prerogatives, not more than those who lived to achieve and perpetuate them, were profoundly learned in the realities of civil liberty, and conversant with the principles of modern statesmanship. They studied the dreams of the old philosophers who lived before the age of free governments had dawned, and had explored the paths by which the most famous republics had dwindled from greatness to decay. Their ancestors had bequeathed to them an intense hatred to wrong and oppression in whatever shape it appeared. The French Revolution was just delivering its terrible message to mankind, and everything conspired to elevate their appreciation of these priceless prerogatives of a people—the right of self-government; I mean a complete civil liberty—a liberty unimpaired by the existence of a single prerogative residing anywhere save in the people themselves. Thus prepared for their great undertaking, the men of 1787 bent every energy to the formation of a government which should preserve forever all the liberties which they had just achieved. If there were those who feared for the continuance of a Government founded on republican institutions—if there were those who, for the sake of imparting strength and stability to the Government, favored the surrender of popular supremacy, they were not the men whose councils prevailed in the plan adopted or in the end attained. The party which ruled in the Federal Convention, and who afterwards predominated in the deliberations of the State, were the party who insisted with [illegible] care on the reservation by the people of every right and power not indispensable to the vitality of the Government. I speak of reservation to the people, not by States, because, for the purposes of my argument, it is wholly immaterial whether the Government of this country is, as now asserted by gentlemen on the other side of the House, a confederation of governments, or whether it is, as the Supreme Court long ago decided, the union of the people themselves. It is to the liberal element of the Convention we [illegible] go to ascertain the meaning of the Constitution, [illegible] can bear the construction which, for the first [illegible] contended for by the Democratic Party, then [illegible] of liberal government, in their early [illegible] conferred a power as irresponsible and [illegible] as any artificial power, and more [illegible] and absolute than any judicial tribunal mentioned in history. Certainly no tribunal which had escaped the execrations of humanity [illegible]

LAW INTELLIGENCE.

Murder on Ship-board.

U. S. COMMISSIONER'S COURT—BEFORE G. F. BETTS, COMMISSIONER.

George Ellis, late a seaman on board the bark Henry Warren, of Bath, Me., was sent home by the U. S. Consul at Havana, by the steamer Empire City, charged with the murder of John A. Peterson, second mate of the bark, while lying in the harbor of Havana. The accused was brought before the Commissioner for examination yesterday. Frank Morris, the first mate of the bark, who was sent home as a witness, testified that on the 6th of March the second mate and the prisoner had an altercation, in which hard words were passed; that the second mate picked up a serving mallet and raised it, as if to strike the prisoner, when the first mate said "Don't strike," and raised his arm, receiving the blow on his arm, and the mallet fell on deck. The two men then clinched, and after a moment's struggle the second mate pushed the prisoner from him, and cried out "I am stabbed;" he then ran aft a short distance, fell upon the deck and expired without a struggle; while witness was looking to see if the prisoner had a knife, he suddenly turned upon him and gave him a severe stab in the left side. He was only able to give the order to have the prisoner put in irons when he was carried below in a fainting condition. The wound was severe, and laid him up in the hospital over two weeks, during which he was not expected to live. One other witness was examined, who substantially corroborated the foregoing statement of the first mate, and also stated that there was a severe cut over the right eye of the prisoner, from which the blood was flowing profusely; how or by whom the blow was given he could not state. The accused was fully committed on the charge of murder.

L. C. Newman, Esq., appeared for the prisoner, and R. J. Macomber, Esq., for the Government.

A Will Controversy.

RIGHTS OF POSTHUMOUS CHILDREN—THE LAW OF DIVORCE.

Malvina T. Ray vs. Fowler M. Ray, Executor, &c., et al.—This was an action by the plaintiff, who is the widow of Fowler M. Ray, Sen., deceased, for a judgment declaring the will of said Ray void, and annulling all proceedings had under it.

The particulars of the case, as they appear in the papers, are as follows: In 1833, deceased married a wife in this State, with whom he lived for a great many years, and by whom he had three children, two sons and one daughter, all of whom are now living, devisees under the will. In 1855 deceased was divorced, also in this State, by his then wife—that divorce, under our statutes, restraining him from a second marriage during the life of the former wife. In 1856, however, he was again married to the plaintiff herein, also in this State, and lived with her up to the time of his death, which occurred in 1858. Before the second marriage, he made his will, by which he provided for his children, his then wife, and others, but made no provision for any other or future issue. The will was admitted to probate, and the property of deceased under it passed into the hands of the executors, of whom the first-named defendant is one (a son of testator.) Meanwhile the widow of deceased gave birth to a child, the issue of the testator's second marriage. The birth of the child, it is claimed, operates as a revocation of the will, under the statutes of this State.

The defence is, that the second marriage was void, under the laws of the State of New-York—the testator being restrained from such marriage during the life of the former wife, who procured a divorce from him under our statute.

The plaintiff replies to this that the testator was a citizen of Connecticut, and domiciled in Norwalk of that State, and the statutes of that State contained no such prohibitory clauses against a second marriage; and that the laws of this State cannot be so construed as to abridge his rights under the laws of his own. The plaintiff further alleges in reply, that the testator subsequently, and before his second marriage, himself obtained a divorce from his former wife, and that such a divorce removed all incompetency to marry again, created by our own statutes.

The defence, however, contends that as the marriage with the former wife was by the laws of this State, the parties were bound by the laws of this State relative to divorce—at least, being married here, and divorced here also, our divorce laws must control the decision in the case.

It is stated the estate is of great value.

The trial of the case is now in progress before Justice LEONARD, at the Special Term of the Supreme Court.

Wm. E. Curtis and Alex. W. Bradford, for plaintiff; J. T. Brady and E. Hearne, Woodbury & Churchill, and Mr. King, for the different defendants.

The E. A. Johnson—Plea to the Jurisdiction of the Court.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—BEFORE JUDGE HALL.

Hicks, the mate of the schooner E. A. Johnson, was arraigned this morning. His counsel put in for him a special plea to the jurisdiction of the Court, on the ground that he was not first brought into or apprehended in this District, but in the District of Rhode Island, and should, therefore, be tried, not before the Circuit Court here, but in Rhode Island.

The District-Attorney filed a replication, taking issue as to the facts of the plea. It was arranged that this issue should be disposed of to-morrow. The facts will probably be agreed upon, so that there will be no necessity of calling witnesses, but simply an argument upon the law point.

All About a Horse.

George Green vs. David Fay et al.—This was an action before Judge McCARTHY, in the Marine Court, to recover damages for an alleged injury to his horse. The plaintiff is a cartman, and on the 6th of last January stabled in the rear of No. 92 Monroe-street, where defendants have a soap factory. The plaintiff alleges that from this factory large quantities of hot ley, and other liquids, are allowed to flow into Cherry-street, flooding over the side-walk and gutter in front of his stable, and that while passing, his horse stepped into the stream and had his hind leg so badly burnt that he was unfit for use for several weeks, and permanently injured; also that while the animal was useless his labor was worth $3 per day.

The defence denied that any hot ley had been allowed to flow in that direction on the day in question, and attempted to show that the horse had the "scratches."

Verdict for plaintiff for $248.

John B. Fogerty for plaintiff; John C. Dominick for defendants.

Decisions.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS.

BONNEY, J.—Curtis et al. vs. Leavitt.—Prayer of petition granted. Referred to P. T. RUGGLES, Esq. Order to be settled on two days' notice.

Crussell vs. Crussell.—Report confirmed, and judgment of decision granted.

Same vs. Frey.—Motion denied, with $10 costs.

SUPERIOR COURT—SPECIAL TERM.

MONCRIEF, J.—Smith vs. Benton.—Judgment for plaintiff, on demurrer as to clause first assigned, and for the defendant upon the other, with liberty to amend. No costs.

Same vs. Same.—Demurrer overruled, with $7 costs to defendant, to abide event, &c.

The Rector, &c., of the Church of the Holy Innocents of New-York vs. Thomas Keech.—Motion for injunction denied, with $10 costs to defendant.

HOFFMAN, J.—Gregory vs. Rilliet.—Motion denied, with $7 costs.

Gray vs. Kendall.—Order in conformity with opinion.

THE DUEL BETWEEN DR. STONE AND S. W. BLISS IN NEBRASKA.—Judge BENNETT, writing from Auraria under date of March 21, says: "The duel excitement between Dr. STONE and S. W. BLISS has all subsided. STONE, who was wounded in the fight, is slowly recovering; it is thought he will undoubtedly get well. I am informed by Dr. STONE's surgeon, that the ball entered the left hip one inch below and back of the trochant major, and passing through the ischiatic notch, and wounding in its course the postule gland and the urethra, and making its exit about one inch below the right trochanter. From this description you can draw your own inference of what part of the body BLISS aimed at, and intended to shoot off. BLISS says he did not intend to kill him, else he would have done so. As he says, I know that he could have shot STONE in the cheek or through the heart as well as where he did, and I guess BLISS says no more as regards his skill as a marksman than he has proven himself to be capable of performing."

TUESDAY, April 17—P. M.

There was increased speculative excitement in the Stock Market to-day, with higher prices on most of the Western Shares and Bonds, and on the Shares and Bonds of the New-York and Erie, New-York and Harlem, and Hudson River Roads. Further realizations both on the Street and at the Board, on New-York Central at 80 ꝑ cent., by the Broker who bought heavily on orders attributed to Mr. GEORGE LAW about a fortnight since, created the same pause in the stock this afternoon as on yesterday, after his first sales at this figure. Under ordinary circumstances, and on a stock standing comparatively alone in the active movements of the Street, the sale of 15,000 or 20,000 shares by a single Bull party would have produced as decided a fall as his purchases created a rapid rise; but the free demand, and firm or advancing tendency of the whole list, are such as to divide opinions as to the effect of the redistribution of this large parcel, so that at about ½@⅝ ꝑ cent. below 80 ꝑ cent., the price manifests much firmness. It closes 79½@⅝ ꝑ cent. A new and somewhat unexpected impetus was given to Galena early in the day, and for some cause not exactly explained on the Street. The very mystery seemed to rush the price up at the Second Board, but soon after the printed sales it was know that the "increasing receipts" in April amount to only three hundred dollars the first week. The turn was then in the opposite direction, and 63 ꝑ cent. was accepted, after sales at 64@64¼ ꝑ cent., as against 62½ yesterday afternoon. Rock Island was firmer, but with no material advance. Toledo went up to 29 ꝑ cent., but fell back at the very close to 28½@⅝. The second week's receipts are $18,705, as against $15,700 same week last season; the weather during the week being cold and stormy. This makes an increase of $8,800 for the fortnight. Michigan Central Shares were a little less firm at the close; the bonds closing at 94 ꝑ cent. after selling at 93¾ at the early Board. Michigan Southern Shares and Bonds of all classes were higher by nearly 1 ꝑ cent., the old Stock selling at 12, and the Sinking Fund Bonds at 70 ꝑ cent. Eries were 15 for the Shares, 84¾ sales of the third mortgage, and 65 bid for the fourths, the Shares being quite active. There was quite an excitement in Harlem Stock of both classes, which went higher than for several months past, the extreme advance not being fully maintained at the close, after heavy sales of the old Shares at 14½ and of the Preference Shares at 40 ꝑ cent. The same buoyancy attained in Hudson River Shares, but with less offering at the advance to 42½@½ ꝑ cent. In Pacific Mail the price went to 106 ꝑ cent. cash, closing 105½ seller 10 days. The outward trip on Friday next, the 20th inst., is said to promise larger money results to both the Pacific Mail and the Aspinwall lines than usual, and it is also claimed that the last advices from Oregon and Frazer River indindicate a liberal improvement in the business of the Company above San Francisco. Panama Shares are steady. State Stocks also steady, and Missouris a fraction higher. An advance of ¾@1 ꝑ cent. was made in the United States Fives of 1865, the Fives of 1874 being held out of the market, except at 103½@½ for the registered. The general market closed partially unsettled in prices, on the Share list, but otherwise firm.

The additional business in Foreign Exchange for the Boston mail was done this morning chiefly at 108¾ on London, for bank and bankers, and at the close the quotation was firmer and ⅛ better, say 108⅞@109. No change on Paris. In the Discount market, outside of Bank, the Brokers report continued scarcity of very prime selections of paper, and the rates are as before quoted, 5@5½ ꝑ cent ꝑ annum for short, and 5½@7 for longer date bills. There is only a moderate movement of Money on temporary loan, and the leading Brokers are supplied at 5 ꝑ cent.

The following was to-day's business at the office of the Assistant Treasurer:

Receipts	$125,592 79
Payments	118,354 35
Balance	7,484,728 12

The receipts include $89,000 for Customs.

Messrs. WRIGHT & Co. in their circular say: "Receipts at the ports for the week amount to 56,000 bales, against 75,000 last week, and 50,000 in the corresponding week last season. At New-Orleans and Mobile, by telegraph for a week later, we have together 24,000 bales, against 25,000 in the same week last year. At all the ports the quantity of Cotton arriving is now small, and must continue so until another season opens. The new crop attracts attention, and its progress will be closely watched. In the larger part of the cotton district the planting is finished. In Texas and the Southern portion of the States, cotton is already above ground, but complaints are general of dry weather interfering with its growth in some places, while in others the seed has not yet germinated from the same cause."

The official paper of the Bank Department has compiled from the quarterly returns of the Banks of this City a summary, showing their aggregate liabilities and assets on the 31st March, 1860. NEW PUBLICATIONS.

GODEY FOR MAY.
STILL ANOTHER VERY SUPERIOR NUMBER.

An original picture, drawn expressly for Godey's Lady's Book, and the original in the publisher's possession:

A MAY PARTY,

engraved in a style that no other Magazine can approach. The beauty and delicacy of this picture will bear the closest examination. It contains six figures, all of which are perfect, and the expression on each face is a pleasant study.

Examine the Fashion-plate for fidelity to the prevailing fashions, engraving and coloring.

"Love and Matrimony" is a little out of our usual line, but variety is the spice of life.

We again notice our illustrated articles. "Tea," illustrated; the Fashions illustrated; "Drawing Lessons," illustrated; "Wonderful Things," illustrated; "How to Dress a Doll," illustrated.

Let all our lady housekeepers read the Ice Cream, Water Ices, and Frozen Custard receipts in this number. They are original, and alone are worth the price of the Book for a year. Every lady housekeeper should keep a copy of it, and with one of the Freezers mentioned, they are prepared for any emergency.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The Legislature devoted its last day to making laws, without the Governor's signature. The veto of the Susquehanna Railroad Subsidy reaching the Senate at its morning session. Mr. RAMSEY, of Schoharie, made a long and earnest speech in favor of the bill, when it was passed over the veto—16 to 8. It was subsequently lost in the Assembly. The West Washington Market bill was also passed through both Houses over the veto. The City railroads were equally triumphant over the Executive, all passing by the constitutional vote. The bills authorizing the erection of a new City Hall in Madison-square, and the sale of the old City Hall to the Federal Government, were both passed. Doubts are expressed as to the fate of the former, of the two and of the Insolvent Law with the Governor. The New-York Tax Levy, containing the appropriation for the Commissioners of Records, was likewise passed. At the Evening Session, the bill abolishing the New-York Almshouse Department was passed, and was subsequently signed by the Governor. The adjournment was effected about midnight. Much good feeling prevailed among the members, and the leave-takings, congratulations and regrets occupied the earlier morning hours. The Governor, abandoning his opinion that no bills should be signed after the adjournment, will take time to reflect upon several measures still in his hands.

A message from the President, relative to the impressment of American citizens in foreign military service, was transmitted to the Senate yesterday; also, a message vetoing the bill for the relief of ARTHUR EDWARDS and others. The memorial of Mr. FRANK SANBORN was referred to the Committee upon the Judiciary. Mr. HALE, calling up his resolution adjourning the Senate from April 19 to May 22, Mr. CLINGMAN moved to substitute May 1 as the latter term. The subject was discussed in a desultory way, and various amendments were suggested; but the resolutions were finally tabled by a large majority. Mr. SLIDELL moved a resolution providing for an adjournment of the Senate every three days, from the 19th inst. to May 1. This was laid over. After a brief executive session, Mr. JOHNSON, of Tenn., reported back the Homestead bill from the Committee upon Public Lands, with various amendments. Mr. JOHNSON, of Arkansas, explained the alterations. The bill, as now reported, sells land to the heads of families only, at the price of 25 cents an acre; and requires a residence of five years on the land before the title shall be perfected. The were other points of difference of minor importance. An amendment of the House to a Pension bill excited some discussion; as did also the President's veto of the Edwards relief bill. The pay of members was cursorily treated in the House, a resolution of Mr. SCHWARTZ, of Pennsylvania, constituting the text. The House then went into Committee on the Deficiency bill; when Mr. CONKLING, of New-York, reviewed the positions of the Annual Message upon the question of Slavery in the Territories, and considered the extent to which the interpretations affixed by the Supreme Court to the Constitution are obligatory. The reorganization of that body he regarded as one of the most desirable results of a Republican victory. The Committee rising, the House rejected Mr. BONHAM'S resolution providing for an adjournment over the Charleston Convention. The consideration of the Deficiency bill was then resumed. An appropriation to pay for reports in the Congressional Globe led to remarks from several members, adverse to the practice of members revising their speeches. Mr. BRANCH, of South Carolina, was especially none upon the abuse. One of the appropriations in the bill is of $5,000 for a Commission to attend the International Statistical Congress at London, in July.

Dispatches detailing the more recent encounters with CORTINAS have been received at the War Department from Capt. FORD and Major HEINTZELMAN. Gen. GARCIA gave information to the American authorities that CORTINAS, with forty men, was again on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande, and Capt. FORD immediately crossed with all his available force to make an attack. Instead of CORTINAS, he found a detachment of troops, claiming to belong to the National Guard. Shots were exchanged, however, before this fact was ascertained. Two of the Mexicans—one man and one woman—were wounded. When explanations were made, the commander of the detachment of the National Guard claimed that he was also in pursuit of CORTINAS. His movements, however, indicated that he had been meditating an attack on the American troops. Major HEINTZELMAN expresses the opinion that CORTINAS is in league with the Miramon party, and that, although the authorities at Matamoras are doubtless sincere in their efforts to apprehend the marauders, he really enjoys the sympathy of the people.

The New-York Conference continued its sessions yesterday. Reports of Committees were the order of the day; and those upon Education, the Mission, the Tract and other interests, were read and discussed. Visitors to the several institutions under the control of the Conference were chosen; and the following gentlemen elected as delegates to the General Conference: Rev. John McClintock, D. D., Rev. D. W. Clarke, D. D., Rev. A. M. Osbon, D. D., Joseph Holdich, D. D., and Rev Messrs. Griffin, Crawford and Ferris. The Stamford Conference was also in session, without transactions of importance, while the Conference at Troy devoted itself to the Slavery question.

The Presbytery of New-York (old school) continued in session yesterday, and received a number of verbal reports as to the condition of the different churches. The general feature of these was that of spiritual and temporal prosperity. The Presbytery has yet to elect two clerical and two lay delegates to the General Assembly, which meets at Rochester on the 17th prox., and to examine a number of candidates for the ministry. The Second Presbytery also held a preliminary meeting last evening, at the Fourteenth-street Church.

The case of Rev. JACOB S. HARDEN, charged with having murdered his wife by the administration of poison, was called yesterday at the Spring term of the New-Jersey Circuit Court, which is held at Belvidere. Judges WHELPLEY, SHARP, DAVISON and MOORE were on the bench. Attorney-General DAYTON conducts the case for the State, and Ex-Chancellor WILLIAMSON is retained for the defence. This is the third time that an attempt has been made to bring the case to trial.

The inquest on the body of the young woman found in the water at Jersey City, on Saturday, was continued yesterday. One of the witnesses examined stated that he heard cries of "Murder" on the night of the 26th or 27th of March. As nearly as he could distinguish the voice, it was that of a female. He heard other exclamations, but allowed his fear of bodily harm to prevent his going to the assistance of the person whom he had every reason to believe was in distress. Upwards of thirty persons, whose friends are missing, called on the Coroner, yesterday, vainly fearing that they might identify the remains.

In the Court of General Sessions, yesterday, EDWARD MCLAUGHLIN, indicted for burglary in the first degree, pleaded guilty to that crime in the third degree, and was sentenced by Recorder BARNARD to four years in the State Prison. JAMES MURRAY pleaded guilty to an indictment for grand larceny, and was sentenced to two years in the State Prison. THOMAS BARKLEY, indicted for forgery in the second degree, was convicted and remanded for sentence. In the Oyer and Terminer, the second trial of KARPLES for embezzling twenty barrels of flour from HECKER BROTHERS, was commenced. The evidence for the prosecution will be resumed to-day. It is substantially the same as was produced on the former trial.

In response to an application of the Croton Aqueduct Board for advice as to the long-suspended continuation of Beekman-street through the Park, Mr. BRONSON, the Counsel to the Corporation, has furnished his views of the legal points involved, in which he decides that the business came under the clause of the Charter which requires all such work to be advertised and given to the lowest bidder; and that the action of the Common Council, in ordering the work to be done, was therefore clearly illegal.

The Board of Governors did not meet yesterday afternoon. The weekly report from the various institutions under their charge was received by the clerk, showing the present number of inmates to be 7,678, an increase of 28 as compared with the previous report.

At the meeting of the Historical Society, last evening, an interesting paper from Mr. BANCROFT was read, descriptive of the siege of Quebec, in November and December, 1775; and appropriate resolutions were adopted in relation to the demise of JAMES K. PAULDING.

GEORGE ELLIS, late a seaman on board of the bark Henry Warren, of Bath, Me., was yesterday arraigned for examination before United States Commissioner BETTS upon a charge of murdering JOHN A. PETERSON, the second mate of that vessel, while lying in the harbor of Havana. He was sent home by the United States Consul. He was fully committed.

The activity of the Stock Market continued through yesterday. The Western shares and bonds higher. New-York Central 80, sales, and 79½@¾ the closing quotation. Exchange on London at the close of the Boston mail was ½ per cent. firmer. The Market for Money easy.

About 1,000 bales Cotton were sold, at steady rates. Flour and Wheat were rather quiet, though not lower. Corn was in fair demand, and was firmer. Groceries, Fish, Metals, Naval Stores and Tallow were inactive. A moderate business was transacted in Provisions, Whisky, Tobacco, Hay, Hops, Linseed Oil and Adamantine Candles. Freights were somewhat brisker.

Capital Punishment and the Pardoning Power.

The Legislature has been guilty of a great oversight in not depriving the Governor of the pardoning power, in the cases defined by the act abolishing capital punishment as "murder in the first degree." As we have already said in discussing this subject, the great merit of capital punishment, if it have any merit at all, lies in the fact that once inflicted it cannot be undone. It is this incident which gives it most of its terrors in the eyes of evil doers, and consequently makes it most valuable in the repression of crime. If it were possible, however, to substitute a punishment which, while as certainly cutting off the culprit from all that makes life dear, would still leave him the possibility of proving his innocence in case he were unjustly condemned, and thus remove all hesitation on the part of jurors about handing a criminal over to his fate, on having a fair case made out against him—justice would unquestionably be a great gainer, and society, we believe, would lose nothing by the change. In other words, if every man who meditates a murder were as certain, that if convicted of the crime, and sentenced to imprisonment and hard labor for life, he would never regain his liberty unless he could subsequently prove his innocence, as that if he were once hanged he would never come to life, we believe the community would, on the whole, gain by the abolition of the gallows. But, unfortunately, no such result as this can ever be brought about. As long as there is life, there will always be hope. There is always the chance of escape in some way or other. Walls are but stone, jailors are but men, and liberty is a great prize; and from these drawbacks to its efficiency imprisonment can never be freed, by any amount of legislation. No act of the Legislature can make anything on this side of the grave absolutely sure, or deprive any human being of the consolation which this uncertainty inspires.

But this uncertainty, derived from the nature of things, is unfortunately aggravated by the uncertainty derived from the exercise of the Governor's pardoning power. It is held every two years by a new man, and each Governor not only differs in temperament, in firmness, judgment, and acumen, but in his notions of criminal jurisprudence. Each Governor is, moreover, open to fresh solicitations on the part of every prisoner in the penitentiary. Any murderer who is sent to prison for life, will in the first twenty years of his confinement have a chance of making ten applications for release to ten different persons, and bringing a different sort of influence in support of the application, to bear on each one of them. His friends may take part during the same period in forty-five elections, and if they are energetic men, thus enjoy forty-five chances of selling their services to the one party or the other. What all this has to do with the question under discussion, no one who is familiar either with electioneering as now commonly practiced, or with the past history of the pardoning power, can have much difficulty in seeing.

Moreover, it is a great mistake to suppose that public opinion will be sufficient to insure the execution of long terms of imprisonment, even in cases in which, like murder in the first degree, it is of the first importance that it should be executed. As soon as a trial is once over and the criminal is sent to the penitentiary, the public gives itself no more concern about him. In ten years the number of those who remember much about him or his offence, is apt to be very small. If he is recalled to their remembrance at all, sympathy for his present condition is far more likely to predominate in the majority of breasts, than horror of his crime. Every year he stays in jail, the more careless will the mass of the community be about his staying in any longer—the more anxious and interested both he and his friends about getting him out immediately. What effect such circumstances as these are likely to have upon a soft hearted, or not very upright Governor, it is not difficult to conjecture. And a free pardon granted to a man whose offence was well nigh forgotten, would hardly be deemed worthy of a paragraph in the newspapers.

To make imprisonment for life a really effectual substitute for capital punishment, the sentence should be open to no review except at the hands of the Supreme Court, and then only on the production of fresh evidence. The Governor should cease to have anything to do either with the criminal or his fate, once the walls of the prison had closed on him. The Constitution has, however, given him the pardoning power, and it is somewhat difficult to see by what device the Legislature could prevent him from exercising it; but this was fair matter for their consideration before they abolished capital punishment. It was none the less so, because it is probable that ten or fifteen years may elapse before we shall be able to judge of the results of the measure which has just been passed. In the meantime, however, another revision of the Constitution will give a chance for any further change which may still be considered necessary to give the present reform, if it be a reform, full effect.

Duels and Dueling.

The upshot of the Pryor-Potter difficulty has not been much more imposing than the result of the grand duel between Duke NICK and JOHN of Lancaster, commemorated so solemnly by the austere Muse of SWIFT. But the matter can hardly be suffered to pass out of the public mind without subjecting the whole question of dueling, as well in the abstract as in its direct applications to American political life, to fresh and searching criticism. It would be idle to deny that the conduct of Mr. POTTER, in this instance, has commanded a certain degree of sympathy, not to say of admiration, at the North. The very men who are loudest in condemning the duel as a barbarous and inhuman thing, are secretly disposed to applaud one American member of Congress for accepting the ordeal of battle thrust upon him by another; and the general satisfaction of the Northern public in an issue which has spared the country the horror and shame of an internecine fight between two of its ordained legislators, is really heightened by the consideration that it was a Northern man who offered, and a Southern man who declined, those peculiar terms of conflict, to which alone this pacific issue must be attributed.

These facts, for facts they are, should be looked in the face. They have a meaning, and it will do no good to evade them. Still less can it serve us to see such facts as these turned to the paltry purposes of party, or employed to inflame the already feverish feelings with which the different sections of our common country have come of late to regard each other.

As to the private duel per se, it is in its origin an unquestionable offspring of religious superstition—a judicial appeal to arms, founded on the belief that Heaven may be expected to interpose to see justice done between men; that the battle will not always be to the strong, and that the miraculous victory of David was no isolated incident of history, but a precedent charged with a principle. All inquiries into the antiquity of the custom must terminate at last in the instinctive impulse of human nature, which recognizes certain personal issues between man and man as perfectly unsusceptible of decision by argument, and certain personal wrongs as not to be redressed by any action of any human tribunal. Whether men shall yield to this impulse or resist it, no matter how aggravated the circumstances of provocation; in other words, whether men shall fight or forbear in certain cases of desperate injury or implacable quarrel, is a question not of law, but of morals. As to the duty of Christians in such cases, there can be no sort of doubt; but as society, even in the most advanced of Christian countries, tacitly declines to exact the sublimest forms of Christian fidelity to the Christian standard from its members, it is hardly fair and reasonable to import the absolute rules of Christian conduct into our criticism upon the behavior of men in this one particular. The utmost we can say, is, that the average morality of one community forbids a man to resent by arms affronts which another community would ostracize one of its members for daring to overlook or to forgive. When HENRY IV. of France received Lord SANQUHAR, who had lost an eye in fencing, his Majesty carelessly asked the Scottish baron: "Does the man who did you that injury still live?" Lord SANQUHAR took the royal question as a sneer, went back to England, sought out the offender, (his offence then ten years old,) and slew him. A French noble would have been held to be in the right. The public opinion of England took a different view of the matter, and Lord SANQUHAR was hanged. FRANCIS I. of France defined the "lie" into thirty-two categories, for each of which every honorable Frenchman must exact an appropriate satisfaction. SHAKSPEARE made this anatomy of honor ridiculous in England, and the common sense of England being with SHAKSPEARE, Englishmen and Frenchmen for the last two hundred years have been governed, and in the nature of the case could not but be governed, by very different notions of the punctilios and the penalties of unwritten social law. It has often, therefore, been absolutely incumbent, (the commands of Christianity apart,) upon Frenchmen to offer or accept a duel upon issues which no Englishman could meet in that way without incurring the severest punishment, not only from the English courts, but from the public opinion of England The average morality of France, that is, has admitted the duel of etiquette. The average morality of England has branded this duel as equally criminal and absurd. The only duel upon which the average morality of England can look with anything like toleration, is the serious duel of passion in which men abdicate their citizenship, their christianity, their humanity itself, under the pressure of some tremendous outrage, and seek each other's blood upon the field. This is a crime of the first magnitude, but at least a comprehensible crime.

The difference which exists between the moral feeling of the Northern and of the Southern States in regard to this matter of dueling, is not unlike this difference between the public sentiment of England and the public sentiment of France. In the South, both the duel of passion and the duel of punctilio are recognized by the average morality of the community. The man who meets an inuendo or a slight with an invitation to pistols and coffee, suffers no more in the public esteem at the South, than does the man at the North who canes a scoundrel for insulting his wife or his sister. The "Code of Honor" of the South is an acknowledged institution, with the minute and particular perfection of which ST. FOIX or ST. EVREMOND himself could have found no fault. At the North, on the contrary, the duel is regarded as a relic of past barbarism. Every Northern man who respects the laws of the land, and the higher law of his own conscience, has been educated to regard the duel with disgust and abhorrence. Unless in extreme cases of the duel of passion, the Northern man knows that he cannot fight without risking his social position, the respect of the better portion of the community in which he lives; and, if he be a political man, his whole future of public usefulness. In this state of things, Northern men do not and cannot meet Southern men in Congress on a common footing, as respects the forms of personal responsibility. The contrast of the two positions makes itself continually and painfully visible in the contrasted bearing of members from the two sections. Even the brave and high-bred among Southern men continually and unconsciously forget the moral restraints which surround their Northern colleagues, and finding Northern men overlook matters which, as between Southerners, would be forthwith "honorably adjusted," assume a tone of superiority quite unwarranted, naturally galling to the Northern members upon the floor, and excessively offensive to the people of the North at large. Of course the vulgar and cowardly exaggerate this tone, and willfully multiply occasions for its display. Northern men, of course, must wince, at the radically false position which they find themselves forced to occupy. For them to forbear is trying, almost humiliating at the moment; while to fight is simply social and political destruction in the final event.

In this way the Southern member has been gradually decoyed into an overbearing, the Northern into an almost submissive, attitude before the country. The Northern people do not like this; they feel that it does no justice to the true quality of the Northern temper and the Northern character. Hence their almost positive satisfaction with the conduct of Mr. POTTER. Mr. POTTER is challenged on a punctilio. He accepts the challenge, but insists that in accepting a challenge he risks all that makes life dear, and therefore that his duel shall be a duel in deadly earnest. He must vindicate himself to his own people by the seriousness of the issue on which he fights, and he makes that issue the general immunity of Northern men from merely punctilious quarrels. It was much in the same way that the Duke of WELLINGTON vindicated his duel with Lord WINCHELSEA. The Duke fought as a matter of duty—to put a stop to imputations upon the honor and character of the great party with which he was acting.

If Southern men will but look at this case of POTTER and PRYOR in its real bearings, and take from it the lesson that no duel can possibly be for a Northern man anything but an encounter for life or death, they may do the country a very great and real service. Neither section, happily, needs to prove its courage. But men who fight duels on punctilio can have no better opportunity for proving their self-command, their justice and their civilization, than is afforded by their daily intercourse with other men, to whom the duel on punctilio is neither more nor less than a shameful form of moral suicide.

California in the Senate.

The new Senator from California, Mr. LATHAM, has made his first mark in the Senate by setting his State right with the Union. It has been confidently asserted in divers quarters, that the Southern or Pro-Slavery element in California, not having been strong enough to fasten the Patriarchal institution upon the young Commonwealth of the Pacific, would yet be found able to carry the gold mines of the Sacramento and the silver of Washoe into the Treasury of the new Southern Republic, which is to be founded when the Union falls. Senator GWIN himself has been frequently quoted as authority for this notion, which was really beginning to force its way into a respectable degree of credibility by sheer force of iteration. Senator LATHAM on Monday drew from his colleague an emphatic denial that he had ever used any language which would bear such a construction.

According to the new Senator from California, the people of that State have set us an example of practical policy in respect to the question of Slavery which is not unworthy of consideration. They have simply overflowed slave-labor with free, and washed it out of their country by force of giving it nothing to live upon. There can be little doubt that the political agitation of the Slavery question, as it is now carried on in the Atlantic States, is to a very great extent the "creation of politicians," and Mr. LATHAM is quite in the right when he puts it as the serious difficulty of the position, that "the South does not possess the same facility with the North to replace black labor with white labor." If the political leaders of the North would consider this grievous fact as gravely as its importance deserves; and would deal with Slavery more as a tremendous economical problem, involving the social prosperity, and even the social existence, of a formidable proportion of the American people, and less as a vehicle for shifting the burdens of political power, and a theme for moral declamation, we might look with greater complacency than we now can upon the eternal discussion of the negro and his relations at the National Capitol.

But, unless the telegraph has done Mr. LATHAM an injustice, he went on after his sermon on practical statesmanship to give the politicians a lift, by a gratuitous declaration in favor of the doctrine that slaves are "property" in the same sense with horses, mules, lands and farms. It is precisely such doctrines as this which compel the question of Slavery from the political into the moral arena, and raise abstract issues strong enough to carry the whole country away. We should be sorry to see California, by adopting this doctrine, array herself in the Senate in such open conflict with the practical principles which have triumphed in her own history, and to which her new Senator has already given such just and forcible expression.

THE VETOES VETOED—THE RAILROAD BILLS PASSED.—The Legislature has passed all the obnoxious City bills in spite of the Governor's veto. His Message on the City Railroad bills set forth, with great clearness and force, the reasons of law and of public policy which existed against their enactment. No candid man can read that message without the full conviction that the bills were crude, unjust, reckless of public interests, and destitute of all those safeguards which should always protect the mass of the people against chartered monopolies. If anything like conscience, or a sense of responsibility, still lingered in the breasts of members of the Legislature, they would have shrunk from over-riding such a document, without some attempt at least to answer the arguments which it embodied.

Yet no such attempt was made. A member from Utica, Mr. MCQUADE, to whom has been entrusted the job of engineering these bills through the Assembly from the beginning, moved that they pass in spite of the veto. Mr. Speaker LITTLEJOHN, from Oswego, went through a formal and pretentious protest against the Message, expressing profound surprise that the Governor should assume to know more about New-York interests than members from the St. Lawrence or Lake Ontario,—and votes did the rest. The bills were all passed in quick succession. It will not be possible—whatever the facts may be—to convince any considerable portion of the community that these votes were not bought and paid for. Those who gave them must expect to meet the responsibility of their acts.

There is a curious anomaly in regard to the passage of bills. Upon their original enactment the Constitution requires that they shall receive the votes of a majority of all the members elected to each House. In the Assembly they must receive 65, and in the Senate 17 votes. But after they have been vetoed and sent back, they may be passed by the votes of two-thirds of the members present in each House. As a majority constitutes a quorum, two-thirds of a majority—which is 44 in the House and 12 in the Senate—may pass a bill after it has been vetoed, though not before. One of the bills vetoed by Gov. MORGAN was passed afterwards by 16 affirmative votes in the Senate. Such a result of course requires the absence of some of the opponents of the bill—and this can generally be more easily procured than a change of votes, because it seems to involve less inconsistency.

The Susquehanna Railroad bill after being vetoed was passed in the Senate, but lost in the House. This bill has had a curious experience. For two sessions it fought an unsuccessful battle in the Legislature. Last year it passed but was vetoed, on grounds which were obviated at this session,—though without affecting the result. The defeat of the measure will be warmly resented in the region interested, which is at present completely secluded, and which claims to have been seriously injured by the other public works to which it has been compelled to contribute its share of support.

PROGRESS OF THE CITY GOVERNMENT UP THE RIVER.—Builders of air-castles, having to pay nothing for building material, can work cheaper, and hence are better patronized than any other class of architects. They have somehow recently managed so to enchant the Legislative Board that sits at Albany for the management of our municipal affairs with visions of architectural magnificence soon to adorn the wild and almost unexplored regions between Yorkville and Harlem, that those Solons have found it necessary to transfer our City Capitol to that vicinity. The bill has passed both houses, and is now in the hands of the Governor.

If it shall receive his signature, and be carried into effect, the visionaries who designed it look for results conceivable only by minds capacious of such things. The genius of domestic life will at once forsake the streets that centre at Madison-square, for the more genial pastures above Central Park; the brown-stone fronts of Twenty-third-street and Fifth-avenue will bristle with law shingles from sill to eaves; the hotel will be transmogrified into a great law building, partitioned into hives of offices; Worth Monument will be enlarged and hollowed out to accommodate the United States courts; the St. Germain will be purchased by the City as a residence for its Mayors; canals will be cut through the several avenues from the foot of the island, that the shipping may come up to the business part of the City; aristocracy will be bounded on the south by Central Park, respectability by Twenty-third-street; and for a man to be seen below Grace Church, unless for the purpose of collecting rent from the pauper tenants who will prevail up to that point, will stamp him with lasting disgrace. There will be no end of public enterprises in the region toward Harlem. Public gardens will bloom at the public expense, monuments will spring up to the memory of the Ten Governors recently slain, and a committee of ladies will purchase and throw open to the public the house and grounds of the venerable Father of the Herald, though not of his country.

To people of heavier imaginations these visionary flights seem absurd. To them the removal of the City Hall toward Albany seems only an attempt to transfer the building in the direction toward which the real Government of the City has already migrated. If this be true, we may expect a relocation of our Municipal Capitol in the Central Park before long, and so on, a step at a time, until it constitutes only an out-house to the Capitol of the State.

We venture to suggest that the result would be accomplished at less expense, and in a shorter time, by building a floating hall on the North River, up which it might easily be towed, at the convenience of our rulers at Albany.

ORNAMENTING THE PARK.—The sensibilities of that small but respectable class of citizens who have been shocked at the idea of desecrating the Park by erecting a splendid Post-office building upon it, must be highly gratified by the uses which are now made of it. In front of the City Hall, and a few feet from the Statue of Washington, a scaffolding has been erected for the trial of a fire bell! What other ornamental structures our City Government intend to erect upon this delightful pleasure ground remains to be seen.

Is it not about time that we began to consider the propriety of dispensing with these sonorous nuisances,—and to seek for some more civilized means of putting out fires than now prevails? In small country villages, where every inhabitant is expected to turn out and help extinguish a fire, it is well enough that everybody should be aroused whenever a fire occurs. But in a City of a million of people such a process seems scarcely necessary. Why must every man, woman and child be waked at midnight by the clangor of these horrid bells, in order that a few score firemen may be summoned to the conflagration? Cannot the combined resources of the Police and the Telegraph effect some simpler and less annoying process of bringing about the same result? The fire-bells are needless nuisances, and ought to be abolished.

Amusements.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—BELLINI'S opera of "La Somnambula" will be played here to-night with Miss ADELINA PATTI as the heroine, and the best male members of the troupe in the other characters.

WINTER GARDEN.—DONIZETTI'S opera of "Lucrezia Borgia" will be given here with Mme. FREZZOLINI as Lucrezia. It is many months since this renowned artiste appeared in our City, and her rentree will doubtless excite the curiosity of the musical world. The Orsini will be represented by Miss ANNA WISSLER, an American lady who makes her début on this occasion, and is said to possess a voice of rare capacity. The other characters are filled by Signors ERRANI, GASSIER, GASPARONI and ARDOWANI. All the principal members of M. MARETZEK'S double troupe will assist in the finale to the first act. On Thursday there will be a grand matinée at this house—the whole of "Ernani," with FABBRI and STIGELLI, and an act from "Somnambula," with Mme. GASSIER and Signor ERRANI.

NIBLO'S GARDEN.—The latest novelty at this establishment is a veritable "horse opera"—produced on Monday night with unbounded success. It is none other than AUBER'S "Bronze Horse," adapted and mounted for equestrian purposes, but retaining much of the music and nearly all the striking situations of the original version. Mr. NIXON has placed the work upon the stage (if we may use the expression) with lavish magnificence, and as a spectacle it can scarcely be improved. The opening scene, an encampment by moonlight, is especially well-devised; the second scene, introducing Oriental sports and games, animated and exciting; the third, where a real horse ascends, instead of the usual pasteboard dummy, surprising and effective. In addition to these notable points, there are several speaking artists, who perform their tasks creditably, and a strong chorus, to interpret AUBER'S graceful strains. We can recommend the spectacle as a huge improvement on the class of pieces usually presented at an equestrian establishment. A succession of such novelties will undoubtedly give permanence to Mr. NIXON'S excellent Metropolitan Circus.

RESIGNED.—Mr. ALEXANDER C. PEARCY, who for six years past, has so satisfactorily filled the position of Superintendent of the House of Reception of the Juvenile Asylum, has signified his intention to resign on the 1st of May. The continued ill health of his family has induced him to take the step.

Democratic Conventions.

FLORIDA CONVENTION.

TALLAHASSEE, Florida, Monday, April 9.

The Democratic State Convention indorsed, to-day, the United States Senatorial caucus resolutions.

SOUTH CAROLINA CONVENTION.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Monday, April 16.

The Democratic State Convention assembled here on Monday. Mr. ORR was chosen President, and made a conservative speech. He favored the Cincinnati Platform, and invoked the exercise of a spirit favorable to the best interests of the National Democracy.

Republican State Convention.

SYRACUSE, Tuesday, April 17.

The Republican Convention, to elect Delegates to the Republican National Convention at Chicago, will assemble here to-morrow, at 11 o'clock. A large number of the Delegates are already here, and every train brings additional numbers. The Delegates are undoubtedly unanimous for WM. H. SEWARD for President. The proceedings will be harmonious, and the Convention will probably adjourn to-morrow evening.

The Santa Fe Mail.

INDEPENDENCE, Tuesday, April 17.

The Santa Fé Mail, from Pawnee Fork, arrived here to-day. The conductor reports the route crowded with persons going to the gold mines; also a large number of Mexican trains coming in. He reports the grass to be fine and abundant. The mails are now traveling without an escort, but it is not considered perfectly safe. The reports from the hostile Indians are that they are for peace, but their treachery is so well known that not much dependence is placed on their professions of friendship. No rain has fallen here for two months, and everything is in a parched condition.

From the Cape of Good Hope.

BOSTON, Tuesday, April 17.

An arrival from the Cape of Good Hope brings advices of Feb. 14. The French expedition to China had reached Cape Town, embracing numerous vessels of war and about 6,000 troops. Some English vessels belonging to the same expedition had also arrived. The local news is unimportant.

[This news has been anticipated by the correspondence of this paper.—ED. TIMES.]

BROOKLYN INTELLIGENCE.

VERDICT AGAINST THE HUDSON RIVER RAILROAD COMPANY.—The case of ELECTA THOMPSON and her husband, JOHN THOMPSON, against the Hudson River Railroad Company, to recover damages for injuries sustained by Mrs. THOMPSON on that road on the 18th of January last, was brought to trial yesterday in the Circuit Court before Judge LOTT and a Jury. The facts as briefly stated in the complaint are, that on the 18th day of January last Mrs. THOMPSON purchased a ticket of defendants at Poughkeepsie for New-York. The train was stopped between Sing Sing and Tarrytown, to make some repairs, and while at this point was run into by another train, going in the same direction. In this collision Mrs. THOMAS W. FIELD, of Brooklyn, married that morning, was killed, and several others were seriously injured. Among the latter was the plaintiff in this suit, who had her collar bone broken and fractured in different places, the bones of one leg below the knee and the ankle were broken, and she was otherwise bruised and injured. The defence acknowledged carelessness on the part of the conductor of the train, and consequently the case was much simplified. After examining witnesses to show the circumstances attending the accident, Dr. ISAACS, Dr. MASON and several other medical gentlemen were examined as to the character and extent of the injuries sustained by plaintiff. They were of opinion that she would not be able to walk without a crutch for three years or more, and that her shoulder would not be in a condition so that she could use a crutch for several months. The case was summed up for the defendants by T. M. NORTH, and for the plaintiff, by MITCHELL SANFORD. After a brief charge from the Court, the jury retired with directions to bring in a sealed verdict this morning. The first ballot stood: Five for $8,000, five for $7,000, one for $7,500 and one for $9,000; and it is understood that they finally agreed upon $7,000 for plaintiff.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

THE ADAMS' EXPRESS SALE.—This sale was continued and closed yesterday, having afforded for two days a fund of amusement to hundreds who, having nothing of present importance to engage their attention, were glad to while away their time in watching the "fools who came there for bargains." The crowd was doubtless much increased by the announcement that one party, who had purchased a sailor's chest for $6, found in it nearly $200 in gold, and one consequence was, that any bag, box or chest which had the aroma of tar about it was eagerly sought for, and bid in at fabulous prices. Another party who had purchased a box for $5, sold his purchase within five minutes for $100, as it turned out that he had secured a box of shell combs. These facts gave a spirit of animation to yesterday's biddings, but we were not informed of any more such fortunate speculations. One party, we chance to know, invested $12 in various unseen packages, the sum total of which, when exposed to view, disclosed one pair of very dilapidated pants; one pair shoes, do.; one pair cotton drawers; one red flannel shirt, which had evidently done faithful service to some Marblehead fisherman; one dozen bottles syrup, of yellow dock, and one dozen bottles of bitters. The fortunate purchaser, considering that he had been well-sold, transferred his claims to a venerable darkey, who appeared to be an active member of the firm, and consoled himself with the reflection that he might have lost more, if he had bidden for more. The sale has been conducted by Messrs. BUR[illegible] & MATTHEWS, passed off in the happiest manner, the auctioneers managing by well-timed, and sometimes witty remarks, to keep the incongruous assembly in good humor through many hours.

SEVENTH REGIMENT EXHIBITION DRILL.—The right wing of the Seventh Regiment National Guard, Col. LEFFERTS, assembled last evening at the New Armory in Thirty-fifth-street, Seventh-avenue, for the purpose of drill and inspection. The right wing consists of the First, Second, Third and Seventh Companies, commanded, respectively, by Captains BENSON, SHALER, PRICE and MONROE, and comprise about three hundred muskets. They wore the full dress uniform, Col. LEFFERTS desiring to make a thorough inspection. Over five hundred ladies and gentlemen were spectators of the drill, among whom were many prominent military men. The necessity of reserving sufficient space for their own movements, reluctantly compelled them to limit the number of admissions. The Seventh Regiment Band furnished excellent music for the occasion. The evolutions consisted of the formation of the regiment, going through the manual, forming in open columns for inspection, marching in close order and reversing front, formation of the hollow square, reduction of the square, and concluding by loading and firing by companies, files and divisions. The martial bearing, perfect order and precision of every movement were the theme of audible comment everywhere among the spectators. The officers of the Brazilian corvette entered the armory at an early hour, and remained with evident satisfaction until the close of the drill. At the conclusion of the performances, which, from their great length, must have somewhat tried the endurance of the men, the audience greeted them with applauding cheers.

ESCAPE OF A PRISONER INDICTED FOR MANSLAUGHTER.—At the recent sitting of the Court of Richmond, Staten Island, EDWARD RAY, sergeant of marines on board the United States sloop-of-war Brooklyn, who was indicted for manslaughter in causing the death of GEORGE RITTER, a seaman, was admitted to bail in the sum of $5,000. As he failed to procure this security he was retained in custody by Officer BERRY, as the jail at Richmond was at the time full. RAY was allowed the liberty of the village, in charge of the officer named. That functionary, though instructed to remain in the village, saw fit to accompany the prisoner to Quarantine, that the latter might procure some additional clothing. Arrived at that place, he was induced to accompany him by boat to this City. Upon their arrival they went to the house of RAY's father in Leroy-street, where the prisoner managed to elude the accommodating officer, and at last accounts he had not been retaken.

A NEW POLICE TELEGRAPH.—Workmen were engaged yesterday in putting up, in front of the City Hall, a scaffold for a fire-alarm bell and telegraph, which has been in use in Boston for some years, and for which the patentee claims peculiar advantages. It is asserted, and with a show of probability, that alarms of fire can be communicated instantly, not only to any bell-tower, but to a hundred or a thousand stations simultaneously, if the authorities shall designate them, and in addition to the instantaneous information, all the fire bells may be rung at the same moment. Mr. ROBINSON, the Superintendent of the Fire and Police Telegraph in New-York, commends this invention in the highest terms, but until it has been tested by practical operation we do not choose to advance any opinion.

FIRE ESCAPES.—The Committee appointed by the "Gewerbe Verein" (German Mechanic's and Tradesmen's Society, No. 132 Hester-street) have concluded their examination of plans, models and diagrams for saving life and property from fire, and a report of said examination, with the prizes awarded, will be published in a few days. Among these are some of the most improved inventions now in use in England and Germany, many of which are entirely new.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.—Mr. C. C. TRACY, of this Institution, who continues without intermission the good work of placing the homeless and friendless children of the City in good homes in the West, left New-York yesterday afternoon with an interesting company of little ones. They were bright and happy, and were neatly fitted out for the journey by the Society.

FRESH COUNTERFEIT.—Petersons' Detector sends us a full description of the new counterfeit $5 note on the Franklin County Bank, Greenfield, Mass.: Vig., a large figure 5, farmer on upper right corner, female with grain on lower right corner; the word Five across the body of the note.

Fires.

IN A SHIP-BREAD AND CRACKER BAKERY—SIXTY THOUSAND DOLLARS DAMAGE.

Soon after 10 o'clock last night a fire was discovered in the lower part of the six-story brick building No. 244 Water-street, occupied by EPHRAIM TREADWELL as a cracker and ship-bread bakery. The firemen quickly responded to the alarm, but their exertions were ineffectual to subdue the fire, which the light wood-work in the interior of the building served to feed, and in a very brief space of time the whole edifice was wrapped in flames. The neighborhood is densely populated, chiefly by sailors and the inmates of low groggeries, all of whom were thrown into the wildest consternation by the occurrence, and at once commenced the removal of their effects. Soon the rear wall of the building fell upon the roof of the coppersmith-shop and bell-foundry adjoining, No. 265 Water-street, occupied by E. DUSENBERRY, crushing it in and involving a damage of several hundred dollars to the building. A number of firemen, in their eagerness to be of service, rushed into No. 269 Water-street, the oil-clothing manufactory of W. A. HILT, and threw about $500 worth of goods into the street, while the contents of another store, occupied as a tailoring establishment by the same individual, were somewhat damaged. Mr. HILT is insured for $10,000 upon stock, in the National and People's Insurance Company. The loss that Mr. TREADWELL has suffered is estimated at between $50,000 and $60,000. He is probably insured for nearly the full amount, although it was impossible to ascertain the full particulars, or the names of the companies. This same bakery was destroyed by the same fire that consumed the ships Great Republic and Joseph Walker, in 1856. Two steam fire-engines were at work on the burning building, and did good service, though the supply of water from the hydrants was inadequate for both of them, and one had to obtain water from the river. The building is still burning as we go to press, but the flames have been confined to the bakery.

Police Reports.

OVERTAKEN BY THE TELEGRAPH.

An intelligent deaf-mute, apparently about 30 years of age, giving the name of O. F. Phelps, was arrested yesterday morning by Detective Elder, on board the steamship Marion, at Quarantine, at the instance of the Chief of Police of Charleston, S. C. The prisoner is charged with having stolen $415 in gold coin and a gold watch from a gentleman in Charleston, just previous to the departure of the steamer, upon which he took passage with the hope of escaping arrest. Phelps is an itinerant card-writer by occupation, and protests his innocence of the charge. During the evening he was discharged by order of Acting General Superintendent Carpenter, who decided that the evidence did not warrant his further detention.

OUTRAGE BY BOATMEN.

Richard Enright and Patrick O'Neil were arrested yesterday by Officers Barton and Guercker, of the Harbor Police, for having, as is alleged, offered violence to Catharine McGuire and Elizabeth Fagan, two girls about 15 years of age, whom they induced to enter their boat as they were rowing off the Battery. As soon as they got them in their power they rowed rapidly for Bedloe's Island. The screams of the girls, however, attracted the attention of the officers mentioned, and they, in conjunction with the boats' crew No. 7, coxswain O'Brien, made the arrest before the prisoners had effected the purpose which it is alleged they had in view. The girls were detained as witnesses at the First Precinct Station-House.

MINOR ITEMS.

Thomas Cronin, a lad confined in the Sixth Precinct Station-house on suspicion of having broken into a house in Bayard-street, managed to escape two hours after he had been locked up, but in what manner is unknown.... Patrick Doyle was held by Justice CONNOLLY in the sum of $500 to answer the charge of having whistled away a bull dog valued at $50, the property of Mr. John Griffin, of No. 14 Mulberry-street.... Messrs. Shenfield & Brother, of No. 154 Broadway, caused the arrest of W. Jackson, an Ex-Policeman, who bought watches of them to the amount of $213, giving in exchange his check on the Oriental Bank, where he said he had $3,000 on deposit, when there was but $10 to his credit. Justice CONNOLLY held him to await an investigation.... George Speight was committed for trial by Justice BRENNAN on the complaint of Nicholas Kirschner, a fellow shoemaker, who alleges that he robbed him of $61 in money and a watch worth $9. Mr. John Schenkle, of No. 209 William-street, charges the prisoner with having robbed him of boots and shoes.... The Harbor Police were called to the British bark Anna on Monday evening, where they found a gang of runners attempting to carry off the crew and ship them on another vessel, in order to receive the advance wages. The Anna is the same vessel which narrowly escaped destruction by fire on Sunday.... Mr. George Glenville preferred a charge against Thomas Stark, alias Lloyd, of having assaulted him as he was returning home from a ball with his wife, about 3 o'clock yesterday morning, when he robbed him of his watch, valued at $50. The watch was found on the prisoner's person, and he, with a supposed accomplice, Henry Aiken, was locked up by Justice QUACKENBUSH to await an investigation.

Coroners' Inquests.

SUDDEN DEATHS.

The Police of the Twenty-second Ward are said to have been notified three days ago of the death of a poor man, named HENNESSEY, at a house in Eighth-avenue, near Eighty-fourth-street. The Coroner only learned of the occurrence yesterday.... Coroner JACKSON held an inquest on AGNES RAMSEY, an Irishwoman, thirty-five years of age, who received fatal injuries by falling down a flight of stairs, at No. 126 Cannon-street.

CITY GOVERNMENT.

THE EXTENSION OF BEEKMAN-STREET.

OPINION OF THE COUNSEL TO THE CORPORATION ADVERSE TO THE OPENING THROUGH THE PARK—COMMUNICATION FROM JUDGE BRONSON.

The following correspondence presents the views of the Corporation Council in reference to the opening of Beekman-street:

CROTON AQUEDUCT DEPARTMENT,
NEW-YORK, Feb. 24, 1860.

G. C. BRONSON, Esq., Corporation Counsel—Dear Sir: The inclosed resolution passed the Common Council, directing this Department to pave the carriage-way across the Park. We would respectfully submit for your opinion—whether the necessary steps have been taken to make the said opening a carriage-way, and if the street has not been legally opened; whether this Department can legally pave the said space, the parks being under the exclusive control of the Street Department.

The accompanying papers more fully explain the matter, and the Comptroller's views for refusing to pay the bills. Yours respectfully,

THOS. B. TAPPEN, Acting President.

OFFICE OF COUNSEL TO THE CORPORATION,
April 14, 1860.

To the Croton Aqueduct Board:

From your communication of the 24th of February and other papers I learn that the Common Council in December last, by a vote of three-fourths of the members elected to each Board, directed your Department to pave, with trap block or Belgian pavement a cart riage-way across the Park between Beekman-street and Park-place, by days' work, at an expense not to exceed two dollars and ten cents per square yard. It is understood that this is an original work, or one which had not been commenced, and that the expense will exceed two hundred and fifty dollars. The question is, therefore, presented whether such a work must not be done by contract, or whether the Common Council can, by a three-fourths vote, direct it to be done in another way.

In a communication to your Board of the 21st of January last, another to the Mayor on the 5th of March, and a third on the next day to Alderman FARLEY, Chairman of the Committee of the Board of Aldermen on cleaning streets, I expressed the opinion, in substance, that, with a single exception, the 38th section of the Charter of 1857 required all work for the City, where the expenditure would exceed two hundred and fifty dollars, to be done by contract, founded on bids or proposals, after public notice, and given to the lowest bidder. The exception was in the case of a work "necessary to be done to complete or perfect a particular job," where the Common Council, by a three-fourths vote, might direct the work to be finished without advertising and contracting with the lowest bidder. Since that opinion was expressed, conversations with some of the officers of the City Government have induced me to give a more full and careful consideration to the question than I was able to bestow on those occasions.

No one can read the 38th section of the Charter, and fully consider its bearing upon the affairs of the City, without seeing that it presents many difficulties, and that no construction can be given to it which will be wholly free from objection. It is a piece of Mosaic work, and, whether the fruit of many minds or the offspring of only one, the several parts are jumbled together without much regard to order, or such adaptation to each other as to make one consistent and intelligible whole. Still we must seek for the leading intention of the Legislature, and give it effect as far as may be possible. A part of the materials were gathered from the 23d section of the Charter of 1849, and another part, with qualifications and additions, from the 12th section of the Charter of 1853. These statutes, being in pari materia, may properly be invoked, and will aid in reaching the right construction of the present law.

The first period of the 38th section, consisting of seven or eight lines, was copied, with the addition of two unimportant words, from the Charter of 1849; and the next provision was suggested by the Charter of 1853, and the abuses and inconvenience which followed that enactment. It required that all work for the City, involving an expenditure of more than $250, should be done by contract, without any limitation or qualification whatever. An abuse soon followed of splitting up or dividing what was, in reality, only one work or job into several parts, and thus bringing the expenditure for each fragment within the prescribed limit. In this way, instead of advertising for proposals and giving the work to the lowest bidder, the Departments were enabled to parcel out the work among their partisans and favorites, to be done by the day, or in any other manner which would benefit individuals at the expense of the City. On the other hand, inconvenience was found in denying to the Common Council, in all cases where the expenditure would exceed the prescribed amount, any power to dispense with the contract system. It sometimes happened that a particular work or job, after having been executed in part, was left unfinished, in consequence of the death, insolvency or negligence of the contractor or other person having it in charge. In some cases of that kind much inconvenience might be experienced, both by individuals and the public, if the completion of the work should be delayed by advertising for proposals and entering into a special contract. And, besides, it must often be more difficult to make a just estimate for the completion of a work partly executed, than for one which has not been commenced.

As I understand the 38th section of the present charter, it was designed, though inartificially drawn, to provide against both the abuse and the inconvenience which have been mentioned, and to do so without giving up the contract system. Whatever may be the difficulty in giving effect to all the words of the section, or in preserving the order in which the different clauses are arranged, I think the Legislature intended to provide, with only a single exception, that every work for the City, where "the several parts" will "together" involve the expenditure of more than $250, should be done by contract, made by the appropriate head of Department, and founded on bids or proposals in compliance with public notice, and be given to the lowest bidder. The exception was, that when the work should be necessary "to complete or perfect a particular job," it might be done without such contract, should it be so ordered by a vote of three-fourths of members elected to each Board of the Common Council. This construction obviates the mischiefs which have been mentioned, conforms more nearly than any other to what appears to have been the intention of the Legislature, and is the one best calculated to protect the City against extravagant expenditures of money.

Though such is not the form of words used in the section, nor the arrangement of the clauses, I think the provision relating to necessary work "to complete a particular job" should be understood as an exception to the general rule, and as though it had been placed at the end, instead of being inserted in the middle, of the first paragraph. The section will then read substantially as follows: All contracts to be made or let by authority of the Common Council for work to be done, shall be made by the appropriate heads of Departments, and shall be founded on sealed bids or proposals after notice, and be given to the lowest bidder. Except—or but—"whenever any work is necessary to be done to complete or perfect a particular job," and the several parts of the work will together involve the expenditure of more than two hundred and fifty dollars, the same shall be done by contract, unless, by a three-fourths vote of the members of the Common Council, it shall be otherwise ordered. This will render the whole section intelligible, and leave little or no room for doubt as to what was intended.

Where the expenditure will exceed two hundred and fifty dollars, there is evidently no middle ground between holding that all work, with a single exception, must be done by special contract, and saying that it may in all cases be done in some other way, if so ordered by a three-fourths vote of the Common Council. We must, therefore, take one or the other of these alternatives. Accordingly those who do not agree in the construction which I have given, hold that, by a three-fourths vote, the Common Council may order any and every work to be done without advertising for proposals and giving the contract to the lowest bidder.

It is true that the present law does not, in terms like that of 1853, say that "all work to be done shall be by contract;" but it says the same thing in effect. It declares that "all contracts to be made or let by authority of the Common Council for work to be done," shall be made in the prescribed manner; and employing a man by the day, to be paid either a stipulated sum or what he deserves to have, is just as plainly a contract as the most formal written agreement which could be made. And being a contract, and not conforming to the requirement of the statute, it is forbidden.

That the Legislature intended, with a single exception, to provide for all contracts of every description, where the expenditure would exceed the specified sum, is further evident from the concluding period of the section, which is as follows: "No expenditure for work or supplies, involving an amount for which no contract is required, shall be made except the necessity therefor be certified to by the head of the appropriate department." Taking this in connection with what had preceded it, the language plainly implies that there was a class of cases in which no special contract was required, and another class where such contract was required—the dividing line between the two depending on the "amount" of expenditure, which had been fixed in a preceding clause at two hundred and fifty dollars.

It has been said that the words "to complete or perfect a particular job" do not point to a work begun and remaining unfinished, but include any and every job of work, and consequently that the Legislature has authorized the Common Council to dispense with a special contract in all cases whatever. I cannot subscribe to that interpretation. To my mind, the words "to complete or perfect," as here used, assume or imply that something had already been done; and the words "a particular job" do not include all jobs.

There is undoubtedly room enough for a difference of opinion on the proper construction of this statute, and I will not undertake to say how the question may be adjudged, should it come before the Courts. But acting on my own opinion, I cannot advise you that the resolution directing the pavement to be done by days' work confers sufficient authority on your department to go forward in the matter.

It is of course unnecessary to consider the other question mentioned in your communication.

Respectfully, yours,
GREENE C. BRONSON.

GOVERNORS OF THE ALMSHOUSE.

NUMBER OF PAUPERS IN THE DIFFERENT INSTITUTIONS.

The Governors of the Almshouse held no meeting yesterday afternoon. According to the weekly statement 36 have died since the date of the last report, 1,443 have been discharged, 127 have been sent to the Penitentiary; and 1 to the State Prison. There were remaining, April 14, 7,678 inmates in the different institutions.

The Position of Hon. Mr. Smith, of North Carolina.

IS HE A KNOW-NOTHING?—LETTER FROM HON. G. B. ADRAIN.

From the Cincinnati Gazette, April 14.

We have before us a letter, written to a citizen of this State, by Hon. GARNETT B. ADRAIN, Douglas Democratic member from New-Jersey, (who refused to vote for Mr. SMITH,) showing precisely what views the latter was known to hold. We ask the ADOPTED CITIZENS who voted for Messrs. PENDLETON, COX, and the rest, to read and digest this letter:

WASHINGTON, March 10, 1860.

DEAR SIR: I received your letter of the 3d inst., and cheerfully give you such knowledge as I possess, respecting the political views of Hon. Mr. SMITH, of North Carolina, on the subject to which you refer, who was a candidate for the office of Speaker of the House of Representatives, and for whom Hon. Mr. ALLEN, of your State, refused to cast his vote.

In a conversation which I had with Mr. SMITH a few days after the election of Mr. PENNINGTON as Speaker, he remarked to me that he was supported by the American Party in his District for Congress, and that he had been misrepresented on the floor of the House by several Democratic members, who stated that he had repudiated the principles of that party; that in his opinion the period of five years for naturalization was altogether too short, and that in his published speeches throughout his District, when running as a candidate for Congress, he had advocated its extension to AT LEAST TEN YEARS.

During the same conversation he expressed his views on the Slavery question, maintaining that Congress should intervene and protect slave property in the Territories, if necessary, and utterly rejecting the great Democratic doctrine of Popular Sovereignty.

Without extending this letter further, I would simply remark, that this is about the substance of the conversation which I had with Mr. SMITH.

Yours truly, G. B. ADRAIN.

Charleston—A New Platform.
BY JULIA CAREY RHEINHARDT.

To Charleston now the swarming hordes
Of politicians hurry,
While pistols, bowie-knifes and swords
Sell quicker for the flurry;
The Douglas files are starch and brave,
The Guthrie men are steady,
And all—our sinking State to save—
Profess their leaders ready.

Buchanan hopes to win the prize,
And Breckinridge is eager;
Joe Lane looks on with longing eyes,
But thinks his chances meagre;—
Slidell has got a few keen friends,
But Cobb has "clean gone under;"
And ere the doubtful quarrel ends
We'll see the "power of plunder."

But, Heaven be thanked! of one thing yet
These broils have not bereft us.—

FROM THE NEW-YORK ALBION,
APRIL 7, 1860.
"To speak frankly, we think that no English Dictionary now before the public, meets, and does no more than meet all the requirements for such a work. Richardson's is the best, in a certain sense. * * Where, then, can a view of the words of which our language is composed be obtained, which is ready of access, convenient for use, (handy is the good English word,) and sufficiently complete and trustworthy, to satisfy the needs of all classes of readers, except those who are themselves, more or less, philologers, and who, without any notion of what the task is of making a dictionary, have some intentions, more or less vague, of making one themselves? The answer is not far to seek; it is in Webster's Quarto Dictionary. * * * His effort has certainly been in the right direction—towards uniformity of orthography in each of the various classes of words, and, in general terms, the reduction of the language to an external analogical conformity. * * * In its definitions, Webster's Dictionary itself still remained unequaled: and we doubt if in their fullness, their exactness, and their nice distinction of various shades of meaning, they will ever be surpassed. We commend Webster's Dictionary to our readers as one of the most valuable works of its kind ever published, and one which no man, who seeks to have a well-appointed library table, can afford to be without, whether he defers to its authority or not."

FROM THE NATIONAL INTELLIGENCER,
MARCH 9, 1860.
"In its definitions and its etymologies, the lexicon of Dr. Webster is admitted to be unsurpassed. In the extent of its vocabulary, as compared with the revised edition of 1847, the present publication is said to contain nearly ten thousand additional words. Another distinguishing peculiarity of the present edition is found in the fact that the illustrations, in a given department, are grouped and presented by themselves. This collocation has the advantage of placing before the consultor, at a single coup d œil, the diagrams or engravings illustrative of an entire department. About seventy pages quarto are devoted by the present editor to the treatment and analysis of the synonyms of the English language. These being grouped together, form a distinct treatise and compilation in this department, thus having a critical and literary value independent of the lexicographical purposes."

FROM THE WASHINGTON STAR,
APRIL 6, 1860.
"We can bear testimony to the great superiority of Webster's Dictionary over all others."

FROM THE NEW-YORK OBSERVER,
MARCH 1, 1860.
"Our examination leads us to the conclusion that Webster's is the best defining Dictionary, giving more fully and in descriptive language, the meaning of words."

FROM THE NEW-YORK INDEPENDENT,
APRIL 12, 1860.
"* * The new Webster, however, is not lacking in mechanical beauty, and its pictorial illustrations are much more numerous and beautiful. They have the merit, also, of being pertinent and accurate, * * and first, of orthography. Webster was rather a regulator than an innovator in this matter. * * The standard edition of Webster gives both forms. Definition. A more important subject of comparison between the dictionaries, is found in their definitions. In this department, * * Webster is incomparably superior; take almost any word at random."

FROM COL. FORNEY, CLERK U. S. HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.
"OFFICE OF U. S. HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
WASHINGTON, April 10, 1860.
It gives me pleasure to certify to the extraordinary merits of Webster's Pictorial Dictionary, which has been purchased for the Library of the House, as well as in the Speaker's Room, in the Capitol of the United States. No dictionary stands higher in this office, and the system of orthography therein represented is, no doubt, that of the best usage of our language in its tendencies to conform to the laws of analogy.
J. W. FORNEY,
CLERK HOUSE REPRESENTATIVES."

THE WESTERN TRANSPORTATION COMPANY,
AND
WESTERN EXPRESS COMPANY.
TO SHIPPERS OF FREIGHT TO AND FROM THE WEST.—Enlarged and the best facilities ever presented for the consideration of Merchants, Shippers, Travelers and Emigrators.
THE WESTERN TRANSPORTATION COMPANY, having united their late facilities with those of the NEW-YORK CENTRAL and MICHIGAN CENTRAL RAILROADS, numbering 31 PROPELLERS AND STEAMERS of the first INSURABLE CLASS, will run DAILY LINES, during the ensuing season, from Buffalo to the ports of Chicago, Milwaukee, Racine, and other ports on Lake Michigan; Detroit, Toledo, Sandusky, Cleveland, and other ports on Lake Erie, which, in connection with the UNEQUALED CANAL FACILITIES of this Company, comprising 150 BOATS OF THE LARGEST CLASS, eight of which will leave Buffalo and New-York daily, enables them to offer merchants and shippers superior inducements for safety, dispatch and reliability.
THE WESTERN EXPRESS (owned and operated by this Company) will be run over the NEW-YORK CENTRAL RAILROAD to Buffalo, and connect with the various Railroads and above Lines of Propellers on the Lakes, for such freight as may require a more speedy transit than by Canal.
For RATES of FREIGHT, CONTRACTS and BILLS of LADING, by CANAL or RAIL, apply to the Agents or Consignees, at the offices of the Company:

CHILTON ON THE CROTON.
The Diaphragm Filter, manufactured by McKENZIE & O'HARA, is the kind of porous Filter to which I alluded in my recent report to the Croton Board. I consider the artificial sandstone which constitutes the filtering medium, to be an excellent article for the purpose. The instrument is quite durable, and only requires to be reversed occasionally to insure its action.

FARMS.

VALUABLE FARM FOR SALE—SITUATED at Fondas Bush, Fulton County, N. Y., 8 miles from Amsterdam, on the New-York Central Railroad, and 9 miles from Johnstown, the County seat. The farm contains 105 acres, all fine tillable land, with the exception of 7 acres of woodland. It is well watered, and a fine, large stream of water runs through it; it is free of stones, good soil, easily tilled, and in a high state of cultivation. The barns, out-houses and fences are in good repair. The land adjoins the village, and there are three two-story dwelling-houses and a store on the farm, all pleasantly situated in the village. A magnificent grove of evergreens surrounds the farm-house. A good cash business is done in the store, and the post-office is kept there. The village contains a large brick flouring mill, large tannery and two stores. One mile east is a village of 1,500 inhabitants. There are 8 cows, 3 horses and all the farming utensils, which will be sold with the above or separately. The roads are excellent; it is a healthy country, and decidedly the most desirable farm in that vicinity. Whether as a Summer residence or for agricultural purposes, such a farm is rarely offered. For full particulars, inquire at Nos. 92 and 94 Cliff st.

FOR SALE—A VERY DESIRABLE FARM, ONE hour's ride from Jersey City, 1½ miles from dépôt, containing thirty acres of land, a good dwelling-house with ten rooms, a fine stable, barn and hen house, choice fruits, with handsome shrubbery, well watered; very suitable for a gentleman's country seat; would exchange for Hoboken or Jersey City property. Inquire of J. MOORE, No. 457 6th-av., for one week. No Agents need apply.

GOOD SUBSTANTIAL PAYING FARM OF SEVENTY ACRES IN THOROUGH CULTIVATION.—Good farm house, large barns, stables, &c., in good order, fronting the shore, north side of Long Island, about four hours from the City. Price $14,000, half cash. Address JAMES JACKSON, care of B. Lockwood, Box No. 80 Broadway Post-office, New-York.

FOR SALE—A FARM OF 30 ACRES, ONE AND a half miles from the village of Oyster Bay, and one mile from Norwich. All the buildings are nearly new and in good repair. For particulars inquire on the premises, of J. HONILAWS.

COUNTRY RESIDENCES.

COUNTRY-SEAT FOR SALE AT RIVERDALE, ON THE HUDSON RIVER, 14 MILES FROM THE CITY HALL.—A fine new brick house, 65x40, (exclusive of piazza,) and 5 acres of land, commanding a splendid view of the Hudson from Staten Island to Peekskill. Pure spring water is carried over the house, supplying bath-room, chambers, kitchen and laundry. The house, (which is in the immediate neighborhood of the residences of Messrs. Babcock, Spalding, Atherton, Ferris, and others,) contains twelve commodious sleeping-rooms, two parlors, library, dining-room and butler's pantry; and, in the basement, kitchen, laundry billiard-room, store-room, furnace-room, &c., and is furnished with all the modern improvements. The house is entirely new, and, with the grounds, is in perfect order, never having been occupied. It is situated within five minutes' walk of the Hudson River Railroad Dépôt, and can be reached in 45 minutes from the 31st-st. station several times each day. For particulars, inquire of MORTON, GRINNELL & CO., No. 55 Park-place.

FOR SALE—A FARM, CONTAINING ABOUT forty acres, beautifully situated on the Flushing and Bay Side Turnpike, (on which are several admirable building sites,) in the immediate neighborhood, and commanding a fine view of Little Neck Bay, East River, and the Sound. The premises are situated at Bay Side, L. I., ten miles from New-York City, and three miles east of the village of Flushing, from which place communication is had with the City several times a day by railroad and steamboat. Either the whole or part of the above forty acres will be sold, and the farm house, surrounded by a beautiful shade, with barns, sheds, &c., and about five acres of good land, will be rented to a suitable tenant. Any further information may be obtained by applying to WM. A. CORNELL, on the premises, or to J. W. ROWE, 363 Broadway, New-York.

FOR SALE—A VERY DESIRABLE PLACE, within one hour's ride of this City, accessible at all hours of the day, and consisting of a large and very convenient house, built but a few years; an excellent stone carriage house and stable, and nearly one acre of ground, stocked with an assortment of the choicest variety of fruit, such as cherries, pears, plumbs, raspberries, currants, &c., in abundance. The place is located on the corner of two pleasant avenues, with a fine row of elm trees on each, and in as healthy a section of country as can be found. There is a well of most excellent soft water on the place, and all is in perfect order. More ground is to be had if desired. Price, $5,000. Inquire of C. A. SHERMAN, No. 229 Broadway, Room No. 37, from 11 to 4.

COUNTRY RESIDENCES.

FOR SALE—A BEAUTIFUL COUNTRY SEAT, situated on the east bank of the Passaic River, nearly opposite to Belleville, and only 9 miles from Jersey City, containing 25 acres of good land, suitably divided into an extensive lawn, and several fields; all in a high state of cultivation. The lawn slopes to the river, and is embellished with a hedge, shrubbery, evergreen, and a variety of ornamental and shade trees. The house is 40 by 42 feet, built in cottage style, in the most substantial manner, with balconies and piazza, and has an extension building in the rear, comprising kitchen, laundry, bath and servants' rooms. It is situated on high ground, and commands fine views of the river and surrounding country, and has all of the modern improvements, excepting gas. On the sides of the house are a grove and numerous fruit trees; in the rear, a grapery, a garden for small fruit and vegetables, and, at a suitable distance, barn, carriage, ice and poultry houses, &c., all in good order and well stocked. This place offers every inducement to a purchaser who desires a healthy, pleasant and beautiful residence convenient to New-York City, and who wishes to be exempted from high taxes. Further information can be had on application to E. H. RIKER, No. 44 Wall-st., A. H. CLARK, No. 161 West-st., New-York, or to WILLIAM BERRIAN, on the premises.

FOR SALE—A COUNTRY SEAT AND FARM, called "Mess Hill," situated in the town of South Norwalk, Conn., within three minutes' walk of the village, 40 miles from New York City, near the shore, and in full view of Long Island Sound, containing 22 acres, divided into garden, orchard, tillage, pasture and woodland, entirely and admirably fenced with stone, well cultivated, very rich and productive, and supplied with water from never-failing wells in the house and stables. The buildings consist of house, stables, corn house, hen-house, &c., &c. The house and stables, which are almost entirely new, are of stone, and furnished with all the modern improvements to be found in houses in the City—furnace, bath-room, cistern in the attic, &c., &c. The house is within five minutes' walk of the New-York and New-Haven Railroad dépôt; also, of a daily line of steamboats to New-York. The situation is most eligible and delightful, and the property is well worthy the attention of purchasers. Those wishing to learn further particulars, or to purchase, will apply to HOMER MORGAN, Pine-st., No. 3 Metropolitan Bank.

HUNDREDS OF THE UNFORTUNATE are disappointed of a cure by not calling on Dr. HUNTER at first. The Hunterian Dispensary, No. 3 Division-st., New-York City, established in 1834, for the Preservation of Human Life. PRIVATE CONSULTATION.—Dr. Hunter has for thirty years confined his attention to diseases of a certain class, in which he has treated not less than fifty thousand cases without an instance of failure. His great remedy, HUNTER'S RED DROP, cures certain diseases when regular treatment and all other remedies fail; cures without dieting or restriction in the habits of the patient; cures without the disgusting and sickening effects of all other remedies; cures in new cases, in less than six hours. It roots out the poisonous taint the blood is sure to absorb, unless this remedy is used. It is $1 a vial, and cannot be obtained genuine anywhere but at the old office, No. 3 Division-st. Book for nothing, that treats of the evil effects of early abuse and indulgence, is embellished with elaborate colored engravings, portraying every feature and phase of disease, exposes the fallacy of the ordinary modes adopted for the cure of local as well as hereditary maladies, and gives the only safe and infallible remedy for expunging every trace of the virus from the system.

HENRY H. LEEDS, Auctioneer.

ELEGANT COUNTRY RESIDENCE FOR SALE.

The well-known country-seat at Clifton, near the Narrows, Staten Island, which since 1841 has been the family residence of Wm. H. Aspinwall, Esq., about 9 miles from New-York, and offering to any gentleman who desires to visit the City daily a desirable home, which, for health, beauty and convenience, has no superior on the sea-shore.

The place contains about 68 acres of land, the highest in the neighborhood, affording ten or twelve fine building lots, and comprising a great variety of woods, hill and dale, about one-half on the southern slope fronting the ocean, and the other half facing the Upper Bay and City. The sea and inland views are unsurpassed—overlooking well-wooded eminences, as well as every vessel which enters or leaves the port. The land between this property and the Narrows is owned by the United States Government, and will probably always remain open.

The dwelling house is over 100 feet front, and varies in depth from 30 to 90 feet, built in part with hollow brick walls, and part with wood, filled in with brick. Grapery, in bearing for six years. Green-house, ice-house and stables, with nine stalls and ample carriage room; one of the entrances is a carriage-drive of over half a mile, well graveled. A description of this place is to be found in Downing's work on "Landscape Gardening," page 36.

The property will be sold as a whole or in parcels, as designated on the lithographic maps to be seen at the Merchants' Exchange, or at the office of the auctioneers, No. 23 Nassau-st.—the same being also staked out on the grounds. If not disposed of by private sale prior to SATURDAY, April 28, will on that day be offered at auction, at 12 o'clock, at the Merchants' Exchange. For terms, apply to the auctioneers. The house will be open for inspection any day between Monday, 9th inst., and the day of sale, on orders to be obtained of the auctioneers.

The sale of the above has been postponed from the 19th to the 28th inst. in consequence of the unpleasant weather, when the sale will positively take place.

HENRY H. LEEDS, Auctioneer—Salesroom 23 Nassau-st.

LECTURES.

A LECTURE ON THE SUPERIORITY OF wind over steam as a motive power for the paddle and screw, by JAMES RENWICK, TO-NIGHT, in the Cooper Institute, illustrated by a working model of the Great Eastern steamship, on the proportion of one to a hundred, rigged on the revolving principle and steered by the screw.

Lecture to commence at 8 o'clock. Tickets, 25 cents, to be had at the door.

EXPLANATORY — MR. EDITOR. — UNDER this head you inform your readers that James Renwick, who is to lecture at the Cooper Institute this evening, is not James Renwick, LL. D., which is true; but as such a notice may lead some to infer that I wished to pass for the learned Professor, have the justice to state that such is not the case. J. R. intends exhibiting an improved method of sailing, which is to be accomplished by a mechanical contrivance, and not by the assumption of another's name. JAMES RENWICK.

PROCEEDINGS OF CONGRESS.

[Concluded from First Page.]

[illegible] such unmeasured power as this. Why, Sir, if this principle was to be carried out, the Constitution and institutions of the country would be but as wax in the hands of the Judges. It amounts to a [illegible] irresponsible power of amendment. If the Constitution, as the Courts now expound it, is the Constitution which we as a Legislature are sworn to protect, then, in this year of grace, 1860, our allegiance is due to a very different article of faith than that of those who went before us. The Federal Government of the country comprises three branches—the Executive, the Legislative and the Judical—but these several departments are mere agents of one principal, the servants of one master, acting under one common appointment, namely, the Constitution of the United States. Now, by what process of right can one of these three agents, coeval and identical with the others, be suffered to determine for himself, as against all the world, not only his own power and prerogatives, but the power of his co-equals, without escape and without appeal? We are told that the whole power was placed in this one agent. We know not whether to commisserate as madmen, condemn as criminals, or commend as statesmen, the men who would introduce into the discussion of this question such arguments as the supporters of this view. And yet there is no exaggeration in the action of the men who, on the 21st of May, 1787, with GEORGE WASHINGTON at their head, concluded the task of revising the old articles of the Confederation. It is now asserted that the framers of the Constitution made one department supreme—not merely within its sphere, but supreme in every sphere, paramount to the Constitution and the reserved rights of the people. The department thus clothed with supremacy is the one farthest removed from the source of all political power in the country—the department which has least sympathy with the people, and which is most estranged from the people. I know there is a power of impeachment, which lies far back in the recesses of the Constitution; but, as JEFFERSON once said, it has never risen to the efficiency of a scare-crow. This overhanging instrument is essentially irresponsible, and is little better than an oligarchy in the Republic—a thing destined to absorb all political power. It cannot be supposed that our fathers ever intended so perverse a thing—culpable, ruinous, absurd as such a perversion of common sense would have been in the earliest and rudest Democracy. It could hardly have crept into the Democracy framed by the men who worked, not in the twilight of the early morn, but with the beams of enlightened centuries streaming upon them, through all the intervals of which they drew their ideas of a free government. Where could they find such an anomaly as this? Monarchical as she was, England had long been ruled by laws made in the people's Parliament; and these laws were omnipotent over King, serfs and aristocrats. The Fathers of the Republic provided against every mistake. Nothing engaged their serious consideration more than the dangers and evils of unchecked and unbalanced legislative power. They recalled the fate of the Italian Republics and other States which had gone down in darkness, and by common consent every check, every restriction, every safeguard which the case required or admitted of, was sought out and carefully adjusted. The second Legislature was therefore adopted, which might check and overrule the other. This was the earliest expediency. After regulating the manner of the composition of these two branches of the Legislature, the next thing considered was the power of the veto. This met with a whirlwind of denunciation. At one time it was proposed to give the Executive a negative over Congress which should be final. This was strongly opposed, and negatived, every State voting against it. The idea of imposing any external power over Congress at all met with stern resistance. The idea was opposed as Anti-Republican, and it was stigmatised as an offshoot of monarchy, so jealous were our fathers lest anything savoring of encroachment should fasten itself upon the Democratic elements of the Government; and yet how futile, how impotent, how utterly unimportant, is this veto power, compared with the infallibility now ascribed to the Supreme Court! The veto power, however, at no time was confided to a body of men whose number was left unfixed and only liable to statutory limitation, but to a single man, whose individuality exposed him to rigid accountability. The veto power was never confined to a custodian selected, nominated and confirmed without any agency or knowledge of the people, but to an officer chosen by universal suffrage. The veto power was confided to a person who could not abuse it longer than four years, but never to men whose life tenure continued them in place long after their efficiency or fitness had passed away. But the idea of the Judiciary meddling with the Legislature was no new thing, and history tells us that it is a thing to be guarded against. The Constitution gives the Supreme Court no power of veto, or of interpreting the Constitution. If the power of interpreting the Constitution was given to anybody, it was given, not to the Supreme Court, but to the inferior Courts. By section second of article three, the Supreme Court has no jurisdiction whatever over any case which can or may give rise to constitutional questions, except for the sole purpose of reviewing the decisions of the inferior tribunals, and to correct their errors. The whole tenor of the Constitution rather places the Judiciary at the discretion of the Legislature, for the Legislature can at any moment repeal or amend the whole procedure by which the Supreme Court can lay hold of constitutionary questions. Again, the framers of the Constitution entirely failed to designate the number of Judges, and it can be only indirectly inferred that there should be more than one. There is not even a qualification laid down to guide their appointment. A Senator must be thirty years old, and be nine years a resident of the State. The members of this House, constitutionally the highest department in the Government, must be at least of that age when discretion is supposed to begin. A man must be twenty-five years of age to be qualified for a seat in this House, and yet a person might be a Chief-Justice of the United States at a much earlier age, whether he was a lawyer or not. At twenty-one years of age, or eighty-one, a Chief-Justice might

Shake his ambrosial curls,
And give a nod the stamp of faith—
The sanction of a God.

I have come to the conclusion that the decisions of the Judges of the Supreme Court are not obligatory upon Congress in any sense; but that these decisions, like other arguments, are merely addressed to the discretion of Congress; and whenever, in the opinion of Congress, the decision of the Supreme Court is subversive of the rights and liberties of the people, or hurtful or ruinous in any respect whatever, it is not only the right but the solemn duty of Congress persistently to disregard it. JEFFERSON once wrote these words to a friend—"At last we have a chance of getting a Republican majority among the Judges of the Supreme Court." Now, in 1860, we have a chance to "go and do likewise." The reorganization and the reinvigorating of the Supreme Court is one of the auspicious promises of Republican victory, and when this reform is consummated, the vampire of Slavery, which now flits among the shadows of a sheltering tribunal, will stretch its wings once more over a peaceful domain, where its ministrations are essential to the development of the highest type of white civilization.

The Committee rose.

Mr. BONHAM's resolution to adjourn from Friday to the 1st of May was rejected, by 69 against 113.

The consideration of the Deficiency bill was resumed.

During the proceedings on an appropriation for the Congressional Globe, Mr. STEVENS, of Pennsylvania, (Rep.,) said if there is to be an official publication of the proceedings, they ought to be printed as they are reported, and never be submitted to revision, which latter makes speeches, in some cases, entirely different from what is delivered. Writing out speeches never uttered is not reporting.

Mr. CURRY, of Alabama, (Dem.,) condemned the practice of members putting into debates things never spoken except in the private rooms of the Globe office. If the reports are to be printed, let them be correct. The whole system is a nuisance, fungus and excrescence.

Mr. SHERMAN said the Committee of Ways and Means have under consideration a measure calculated to prevent this abuse.

Mr. BRANCH, of North Carolina, (Dem.,) remarked that a stop should be put to the revision of speeches. If a man talks nonsense, let it so be printed.

Among other amendments adopted, was an appropriation of $5,000 for a delegate to the International Statistical Congress in London in July next.

The Committee rose, and without final action on the bill the House adjourned.

POLITICS AT WASHINGTON.

The Approaching Conventions — The Old School Conservative Sentiment—Preferences for John McLean—The Douglas Stock—Chances of the Wood Delegation.

Correspondence of the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Monday, April 16, 1860.

Men, and particularly the politicians of all parties, begin to talk and act in earnest about the Presidency. The Democrats are, of course, most exercised, their Convention coming first, and within the next ten days. In my last I gave some idea of things in that camp. Though it is more than one month before the meeting of the Republican Convention, yet the interest felt by them concerning what shall be done at Chicago, is in reality scarcely less than that among the Democrats. In between both these Conventions comes that of the "National Union" people which will assemble in Baltimore on the 9th of May. It is a fact, singular or not, that these three Conventions, though in their aims as diverse as the poles, depend, as to the policy that shall govern each, very much on one another. Perhaps the Democrats will proceed most independently. It will be the first brick in the row to fall, and after the manner of its falling, so will the others come down. Thus the Baltimore Convention will be determined in its action almost wholly by the Charleston nomination, and the subsequent effect on the party. The idea all along, among many of the leaders of the National movement, has been that the nomination of DOUGLAS at Charleston would make trouble in the party in the Southern States, which the Baltimore Convention might take advantage of by taking up SAM HOUSTON—who, they contend, would, under such circumstances, be quite certain to carry Texas, Tennessee, and some three or four other Southern States. This calculation does not appear to me to evince a very severe canvass of probabilities; nevertheless, the theory is soberly put forth by sensible men. Probably there exists under the surface as much diversity of feeling among the National Union men as in either of the other parties—if, indeed, that can properly be called a party. There are those who want a clean nomination and a third electoral ticket, without regard to the effect such a police would have on the Presidential canvass. They are neither Democrats nor Republicans, and never can be either, but mainly Old Line Whigs, as they delight to call themselves. They probably would be best suited if they were permitted to vote for HENRY CLAY's Executors. Since that distinguished statesman's estate is understood to have been fully settled up, the account of the executors closed, and themselves discharged, it is not probable that the old liners will be permitted to indulge their preferences in this respect! As it is, this class of men are divided mainly between JOHN BELL, EDWARD EVERETT and JOHN J. CRITTENDEN. As a general thing, they profess intense abhorrence of the doctrines of the Republican Party, and the greatest alarm for the consequences of its success. Nevertheless, the policy they propose of running a third candidate would in most of the States be the next best thing for the Republicans to voting, their candidate direct. Another section of the Nationals are in favor of shaping the policy at Baltimore so as to promote a union of the Opposition on BATES or MCLEAN. BATES having been brought out too early, and broken down in the training, MCLEAN just now appears to be the favorite representative of this idea. Without any doubt the Republicans have recently been much impressed with it, and should the Baltimore Convention express a preference for MCLEAN, propose a union on him, and then adjourn, it is not improbable that the Chicago Convention would accept the olive branch, and throw overboard SEWARD, and the whole batch of candidates. And there is yet another class of Nationals,—those who protest against being bound to support a third candidate, or by any other policy than that which will leave them free to act in the end as will best comport with the idea of giving an effective vote in a practical way. Thus the Nationals of New-York desire to be left free to oppose the Republicans in whatever manner shall to themselves seem best, and you may depend upon it that the determination thus to act will be persisted in to the end, in spite of a dozen Baltimore Conventions. The agreement on Judge MCLEAN would, however, change the case, and bring the most of this class of Nationals to his support; as Judge MCLEAN's nomination in this manner would be a virtual abandonment by the Republicans of their distinctive character and avowed purposes.

The Republicans are in a glow of uncertainty. The strong desire to win is in conflict with personal and sectional preferences. Without much doubt, should it be determined to nominate an out-and-out Republican, discard availability, and stick to principle as something better than success with some abatement thereof, Mr. SEWARD would prove to be the favorite, and would receive the nomination. But the question comes up, and will come up at all times and everywhere, can Mr. SEWARD or any other distinctive Republican be elected? The recent New-England elections have given pause to such as have been loudest in answering this question in the affirmative. The current has begun to set strong against the idea of placing a distinctive Republican in the field, and hence the MCLEAN stock has come up suddenly. Much depends on whom the Democrats select. The nomination of DOUGLAS would knock SEWARD seriously on the head, and probably settle the case against him at Chicago. In that event the chances would set strongly in favor of BATES or MCLEAN. The latter would probably prove the stronger man. He could scarcely fail of an election, even against DOUGLAS. The cooler-headed Republicans see this clearly, and greatly prefer to contemplate the picture, to the one of doubt and defeat which the nomination of a distinctive Republican, particularly SEWARD, would present.

Among not the least significant indications of the hour is the cordial fraternization of distinguished and influential Southern gentlemen with the supporters of DOUGLAS at their head-quarters, among whom may be mentioned Senators CLINGMAN, T. BUTLER KING, Mr. HAMILTON and others of this representative class, who do not hesitate to pledge to him much Southern strength not hitherto so apparent. As a practical offset, however, is the alienation of the Collector of Customs at Boston, and the open violent opposition of COOK, the Chicago Postmaster, and perhaps a few other officeholders. It would be strange, indeed, if Mr. BUCHANAN did not succeed in controlling some few of his appointees against Mr. DOUGLAS.

Among the recent arrivals here is Mayor WOOD of your City, with several colleagues of his delegation. By the way, what has become of the two ocean steamers that were said to be chartered to convey the "gallant six hundred" Mozart boys, whose charge was to make such havoc among the cohorts of CAGGER and RICHMOND. While the Mayor has many admirers, and on Manhattan Island his strong array of supporters, the admission of his delegation to seats in the Convention as the true and proper representatives of the Democracy of New-York can scarcely be pretended with seriousness as at all probable.

THE RELIGIOUS WORLD.

THE NEW-YORK CONFERENCE.

THE SEVENTH DAY'S PROCEEDINGS—REPORT ON EDUCATION—FIVE POINTS MISSION—THE TRACT CAUSE—VARIOUS REPORTS—DELEGATES TO THE GENERAL CONFERENCE—SUNDAY-SCHOOLS, ETC.

The session opened yesterday morning, with the accustomed exercises. The Bishop finished the examinations of character, and declared all passed.

Rev. J. BEACH, Presiding Elder of Prattsville, was, at his own request, assigned a supernumerary relation.

Rev. Dr. MCCLINTOCK, in presenting a partial report on Education, which was accepted and adopted, spoke in commendatory terms of the various seminaries and other places of education in connection with the Church—namely, the Wesleyan and Troy Universities, the American and Conference Seminaries, the Ashland Collegiate Institute, and the Hudson River Institute at Claverack. They were very prosperous, and richly deserved the confidence of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The reports of the Wesleyan University were, he said, unusually clear and explicit. The number of students was 138, of whom 116 were pious, and 47 licensed preachers, who labored for the Church. The joint Board had resolved upon erecting a new building, and extensive improvements had been made, not only upon the grounds, but upon the existing buildings.

The following visitors and alternates were appointed, agreeably to the recommendation of the Committee.

Wesleyan University.—Visitors—Rev. M. D'C. Crawford, Rev. A. C. Foss, C. C. North, Esq. Alternates—Rev. E. R. Keyes, Rev. G. F. Kettell.

At a later period of the day the Rev. gentlemen presented a full report, which was also adopted, and recommended the following visitors to the places named:

Troy University—Rev. J. D. Broon, Silas Fitch, John Poisal, J. B. Corneil, Esq., A. V. Stout, Esq., and A. H. Kelly, Esq.

American Seminary—Rev. J. W. Ludig, E. Foster, and T. W. Chadwick.

New-York Conference Seminary—Rev. A. M. Hough, W. Goss, and C. B. Ling.

Ashland Collegiate Institute—Rev. G. Draper, C. Schilling, and C. P. Matthews.

Claverack Seminary—Rev. C. S. Brown, J. L. G. McKown, and G. S. Hare.

The partial report first noticed above was presented in order to give Rev. Dr. CUMMINGS, President of the Wesleyan University, who was compelled to leave the Conference early, an opportunity to speak in relation to his charge. The reverend gentleman gave a detailed account of the institution, which he said was now in a thriving condition. He stated that the whole Faculty were Methodists, and, in consequence, he trusted the Conference would give their countenance and aid to the institution.

A number of additional votes on the Erie resolution were cast, which increased the negative vote by 22, and the affirmative vote 4.

The order of the day, being the election of delegates to the General Conference, was then taken up. There were nine delegates to be elected, and Rev. JOHN LUCKEY, JEREMIAH WILLARD and GEO. S. HARE were appointed Tellers, and, with one of the Secretaries, were, by a vote of the Conference, permitted to retire and count the votes, while the other business of the Conference was proceeded with.

Rev. E. OSBORN, of the Newburgh District (Marlboro and Lattentown,) was assigned a supernumerary relation at his own request, and Rev. J. SWAHLEN, of Troy and Albany, (German Mission,) asked for a similar assignment, in consequence of ill-health; but the Bishop, at the recommendation of Rev. C. H. AFFLEBACH, promised to see about giving the latter preacher an appointment in a milder climate.

On a motion to take up the appointment of a place for holding the next Annual Conference, the Rev. L. M. VINCENT stated that a warm invitation had been extended by the Methodists of Poughkeepsie to hold it in Washington-street Methodist Episcopal Church of that city. Rev. E. R. KEYES stated that a cordial invitation had been extended to hold the Conference at Sing Sing, and both gentlemen warmly advocated the respective places.

Rev. J. N. SHAFFER advocated Sing Sing, and said that, while he had nothing to say against the people of Poughkeepsie, yet the fact was patent that they could not accommodate all the ministers in that little city—

A VOICE—It is a big city now.

Rev. Mr. SHAFFER—In that little city. He repeated that, at the last Conference, ministers had to leave the city and get accommodations outside. The Conference had grown since—

A VOICE—So has the city.

Rev. Mr. SHAFFER would decidedly vote in favor of Sing Sing, and reiterated his assertion as to the want of accommodation at the last annual Conference held in Poughkeepsie.

Rev. Mr. KETTELL assured the brethren that there would be no difficulty in that way now; and besides, they would have the advantage of not having a State Prison in their immediate vicinity, should they unfortunately be inclined to misbehave themselves. [Laughter.]

The vote being put, 135 declared in favor of Poughkeepsie, whereupon the vote was, on motion of Rev. M. D'C. CRAWFORD, made unanimous, and the presiding Elders and preachers of the District were appointed a Committee to make arrangements for the anniversaries, &c., Rev. Mr. KETTEL, being added to the Committee.

A series of resolutions passed at the last Conference were renewed by Rev. Mr. AFFLEBACH. They provided for the sanction of an effort to build a German Methodist Episcopal Church at Troy, and another at the Fortieth-street German Mission in this City, and also for authorizing the appointment of agents to collect funds for those purposes. The resolutions were unanimously adopted.

Rev. Dr. OSBON, Presiding Elder of the New-York District, presented a letter from the physician of Rev. J. P. NEWMAN, which stated that that gentleman was suffering from a severe affection of the throat and of the larynx. The doctor, therefore, recommended, in view of the facts, that Brother NEWMAN should desist from public speaking.

Rev. Dr. OSBON, in view of the facts stated in the letter just read, moved that Rev. Mr. NEWMAN be assigned a supernumerary relation.

Rev. B. GRIFFIN said that was all very well; he (Mr. G.) did not wish to say one word which might be supposed to injure Brother NEWMAN, but he trusted that if the Conference should assign that gentleman a supernumerary relation, he would not use his voice or his throat in delivering lectures.

Rev. Dr. OSBON was understood to say that that was the fault of the people.

Rev. B. GRIFFIN entirely disapproved of Methodist ministers delivering lectures anywhere. He believed that a minister should attend to his legitimate work of preaching the Gospel, and if he did that he had quite enough work to do.

The motion to assign Rev. J. P. NEWMAN a supernumerary relation passed.

Rev. Dr. OSBON then referred to the great work at the Five Points Mission. There was an excellent teacher there, but they wanted another, and as an agency could not be given to Rev. A. K. SANFORD, he moved that that brother be appointed to the office of teacher.

Rev. Mr. SANFORD—Please state to the Conference the work I will have to do there.

Rev. Dr. OSBON—Will I speak out fully, and tell all?

VOICES—Yes, yes.

Rev Dr. OSBON would then tell them that a very good man had formerly been at the mission; a man who had been most successful in his efforts to discover the squalor and misery and wretchedness which existed in that locality, and to relieve them when discovered. That reverend gentleman had, however, now gone to another mission, and many who heretofore had attended at the Five Points now went to the mission of Rev. Mr. VAN METER. His leaving the Five Points Mission had reduced the ladies thereof to the necessity of asking that Mr. SANFORD be placed there in some relation, and as the Bishop could not squeeze him in as an agent, he (Dr. O.,) hoped he would be put in as a teacher.

The Bishop said that would give some color to the transaction.

Rev. Dr. OSBON—Yes, let us have the color then.

The motion passed unanimously, and Mr. SANFORD received the appointment.

A resolution was presented by Rev. Dr. OSBON, and adopted, asking the next General Conference to explain or adjust, at its next session, the relation of the Sunday Schools and Sunday School Societies to the Quarterly Conference, so as to disembarrass the administration of this department of the work.

The Committee on the Tract cause, through Rev. JOHN POISAL, reported the state of the funds to be very satisfactory, and gave a statement of the number of pages, in the English and German languages, of tracts distributed. The report concluded by recommending the present indefatigable agent, Rev. B. GRIFFIN, whose devotion to the work and energy in the cause, would, in another year, be the means of extinguishing the existing debt of the Society.

Rev. M. D. C. CRAWFORD said that he admitted fully the truth of all that was said of the energy and indefatigable industry of Brother GRIFFIN; yet, while he had not a word to say against Brother G., he did not like to see him placed in a false position. People would most likely suppose that this agency was given him for accommodation. He (Mr. C.) was of opinion that the interests of the Tract Society did not require an agent for another year.

Rev. IRA FERRIS spoke in favor of a continuance of the agency, and asked why Brother CRAWFORD came in at this time to prevent the payment of the debt which existed against the Society.

Rev. Mr. CRAWFORD could tell them why. It was true that the exertions of Brother GRIFFIN had been the means of materially reducing the debt against the Society; but he did not wish to see $1,500—or about seventy-five per cent.—taken out of the funds of the Society to pay an agent, when the collections which would be taken up by the various preachers would be quite sufficient to discharge the obligation.

Rev. Mr. KETTELL believed that if the Conference did not want a Tract Society there was no necessity for an agent. If, however, they wanted such a society, they certainly ought to have an agent to take care of it.

Rev. B. GRIFFIN (the Secretary of the Conference and Agent of the Tract Society) said that before he took the agency last year, the debt of the Society amounted to $2,395; now the debt was below $1,000. Such was the result of nine months' effort. He cared nothing whatever for the agency if another person could be got to take care of it, but he believed in the necessity of some one being appointed to take care of the Society. What accommodation could it be for him, who was the oldest effective man in the Conference, except one, (and he was absent through sickness) to be shifted about from year to year? He did not, at his time of life, desire to injure his wife's health and her accommodation by being jostled about. Aye, at his time of life, for he was getting into years, and he did not know but that he would ask the Bishop for a supernumerary relation before the Conference closed its session.

THE BISHOP—Oh, no; you know I have put you down as a young man.

Rev. Mr. GRIFFIN—Certainly, I am a young man, just in my prime. [Laughter.]

[If may be remarked that Mr. GRIFFIN is sixty-eight years old, and has been forty-nine years (less one month) in the ministry. He has a most powerful voice, so powerful indeed that it is noticed by all the Conference, and much amusement is created sometimes by telling him to speak louder, "because," say his tormentors, "we can hear you easily at the distance of two blocks, but we want to hear you a block further off." He is also as agile and smart as a man twenty years younger.]

Rev. Mr. GRIFFIN proceeded to say that if he could not do as much work as any man in the Conference he would consent to be classed among the old men. [Laughter.] He affirmed that if they wanted the Tract Society to flourish they should have an agent, and if the Conference thought he was not efficient let them appoint another.

After several speeches pro and con, the agency was continued, and the worthy Secretary of the Conference was reappointed.

Rev. J. P. HERMANCE, Alternate this year, was then elected to preach the annual sermon next year, and Rev. LUCIUS H. KING was elected Alternate.

The Committee on the Holy Scriptures reported a series of resolutions, which were adopted, recommending that, in view of the increased demand for the Bible, as well as the wide doors now open for the dissemination thereof, the Conference should use increased efforts in behalf of the cause; also, appreciating the liberality of the American Bible Society, and its zeal and promptness in meeting the demands of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and pledging the Conference to make collections in all circuits and stations in behalf of this noble charity.

The Committee on Temperance reported a preamble and resolutions opposing the use of intoxicating liquors; approving of an efficient temperance action, and pledging the Conference to total abstinence at all times; favoring the formation of Temperance Societies; recommending at least one sermon in the year on Temperance to be preached; approving of a prohibitory Temperance law, and pledging that they would not use lager-bier, wine, or similar beverages otherwise than the most rigid temperance would allow, or health permit.

Rev. J. W. FREUND objected to the last resolution. A gentleman had been admitted to membership who kept a brewery in Twenty-second-street. It might be thought that he, (the speaker,) being a German, was fond of his lager, but such was not the case; he merely thought it an inconsistency to admit a member who brewed beer, and yet pass a resolution denouncing its purchase, sale or use.

Rev. Mr. ZIMMERMAN explained that the party in question had not yet been admitted to the Church, and besides he only brewed small beer.

The report was adopted.

Rev. M. D'C. CRAWFORD offered a resolution, recommending the General Conference to empower the Bishop to make appointments to the Conference City Missions for a longer period than two years.

Carried.

Adjourned till 3 o'clock P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Special Committee, to whom was referred the resolution asking the General Conference so to alter the rule of discipline in relation to the itineracy, as to permit Bishops to appoint preachers to stations for three years, reported that at this late period of the session it would be inexpedient to make any recommendations interfering with the itineracy.

The tellers reported the following names as having received a constitutional vote for delegates to the General Conference at Buffalo on 1st May:

Rev. D. W. Clarke, D. D.; Rev. B. Griffin, Rev. M. D. Crawford, Rev. A. M. Osbon, D. D.; Rev. J. McClintock, D. D.; Rev. W. H. Ferris, Rev. Joseph Holdich, D. D.

Rev. O. C. HEDSTROM, of the Bethel Ship, was, on motion of Dr. OSBON, assigned a superannuary relation.

Rev. J. K. STILL, who at the beginning of the Conference was made effective, was assigned a supernumerary relation, it being found that he could not do the work.

Rev. G. A. A. KETTELL explained that his remarks some days since had been mistaken. He was not in favor of Slavery, but he affirmed that it was not in all cases a sin, but might be justifiable only where it could be for the interests of humanity. Brethren, on the other side, applied this to individual cases, while he applied it to the whole race. His position was, that in view of the past history of the blacks, and their present incapacity for freedom, and the intimate relation subsisting between the North and the South, if Slavery were discontinued now it would injure the North as well as the South, and that under all the circumstances attending the case its continuance could not be a sin.

Rev. S. B. BROWN offered the Oregon resolution, providing for lay delegates to the General Conference, and that none of them should have a vote which might modify or abrogate the itineracy. Lost—57 to 37.

A motion was made to request the Chair to appoint a Committee of three to consider the expediency of organizing a Ministerial Life Assurance Society. Lost—48 to 35.

The Committee on Claims reported that the sum required to be raised to meet necessitous cases during the ensuing year was $7,304.

The Committee on Sunday Schools reported a series of resolutions praising the Sunday School Advocate, and promising to raise its circulation to 300,000, recognizing the Scripture lessons of Mr. C. R. DUEL as most excellent; also recommend the formation of Juvenile Missionary Societies, the preaching of a sermon to Sunday Schools at least once a quarter, the placing of children of advanced age on the class lists as probationers, and the more general use of the Catechism in the churches. Adopted.

After the doxology Rev. WM. P. CORBETT pronounced the benediction, and the Conference adjourned till to-morrow, at 8½ A. M.

THE CONFERENCE AT STAMFORD.

SIXTH DAY'S PROCEEDINGS—CLOSING BUSINESS OF THE SESSION — APPOINTMENTS — FINAL ADJOURNMENT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

STAMFORD, Tuesday, April 17, 1860.

The New-York East Conference held the last meeting of the present session to-day. The members assembled at 8½ A. M., and at 10 o'clock adjourned till the afternoon. Very little business of interest was transacted.

Rev. MILES N. OLMSTED read the report of the Committee on Temperance. In it the causes of intemperance—among which the use of tobacco was deemed a principal one—were examined, and a series of resolutions, declaring the use of alcoholic drinks and tobacco one of the greatest evils of the age, and that, by precept and example, the members of the Conference should discountenance it, were appended.

A proposition to amend the resolutions, by striking out a clause providing that in cases of necessity the stimulants might be used, was opposed by Rev. Dr. NATHAN BANGS, who said he was compelled sometimes to use a little wine for the stomach's sake, and if the amendment was adopted he could not obey the rule.

The report was laid on the table.

Rev. Dr. NATHAN BANGS moved that the delegates to the General Conference be requested to propose and support a measure establishing a Court of Appeals, to sit at any time when the General Conference is not in session. It was carried, and the Conference adjourned to 2 P. M.

In the interim the Ministers' Mutual Assistance Society of the Conference held its annual meeting, the President, Rev. Dr. J. H. PERRY, presiding.

The Treasurer, Rev. Dr. JAMES FLOY, read his report. The Society has $539 22 on hand. Its assets are $3,878. The Society elected the following officers: President, Rev. Dr. J. H. PERRY; Treasurer, Rev. Dr. J. FLOY; Recording Secretary, Rev. F. W. SMITH; Corresponding Secretary, Rev. W. C. HOYT.

At the afternoon meeting of the Conference, Rev. Dr. CURRY presented a supplementary report from the Committee on Education, setting forth that the Amenia Seminary had been reorganized, and was in successful operation.

The Steward's report was read and adopted.

A resolution was unanimously passed, expressing regret at parting with Rev. H. J. FOX, who is transferred to the New-York Conference, and recommending the Ashland Collegiate Institute to public confidence.

Rev. J. S. INSKIP presented the report of the Committee on Statistics. There are 30,669 members in the Conference—694 more than there were a year ago. There have been 2,267 baptisms during the year—159 more than during the year preceding. There are 232 Churches, and the value of Church property is $1,194,400—$18,000 more than it was the year before. The Benevolent Contributions amounted to $125,000. In the 233 Sunday schools there are 27,812 scholars, and in their libraries 76,140 volumes.

The usual resolutions of thanks were presented to the Secretary, Rev. G. W. WOODRUFF, and his assistants, and to the Trustees of the Church.

The Bishop took leave of the Conference, thanking the members for their courtesy and commending their unvarying good order. He had come to the Conference fearful that in the discussion of exciting topics there would be some irregularity. He was pleased with the promptness and good judgment with which they conducted their affairs. Might God bless them, and farewell.

And Bishop SIMPSON departed for the Black River Conference, which commences its session to-morrow.

The appointments of the ministers of the Conference for the ensuing year were then read. The following are the principal of them:

NEW-YORK.—John-street, E. L. Janes; Forsyth-street, J. Miley; Allen-street, T. G. Osborn; Cherry-street, J. O. Rodgers; Willet street, J. E. Serles; Norfolk-street, W. Lawrence; Second-street, W. F. Collins; Seventh-street, F. S. DeHass; Ninth street, J. S. Inskip; Seventeenth-street, J. A. Roche; Twenty-seventh-street, C. Fletcher; Thirty-seventh-street, Wm. McAllister; Second-avenue Mission, J. B. Merwin.

BROOKLYN.—Sands-street, B. H. Nadal; York-street, E. Sands; Washington-street, W. S. Scudder; Centenary Church, Thomas Stephenson; Warren-street, J. Law; Pacific-street, W. H. Milburn; William-street, E. O. Bates; Fleet-street, C. D. Foss; First-place, G. Taylor; Eighteenth-street, S. W. King; Hanson-place, J. H. Perry; Washington-avenue, G. R. Crooks; Carlton avenue, Charles Kelsey; DeKalb avenue, A. H. Mead; Nathan Bangs' Church, A. H. Hunt; James Church, S. H. Platt; North Fifth street, J. D. Bouton; South Second street, R. C. Putney; Grand-street, D. A. Goodsell; South Fifth street, W. S. Studley; South Third-street, J. L. Peck; Green Point, B. Goodsell.

NEW-HAVEN.—First Church, John Kennaday; St. John-street, B. Pilsbury; George-street, A. S. Francis.

NORWALK.—First Church, J. J. Wooley.

BRIDGEPORT AND FAIRFIELD.—Albert Nash.

STAMFORD.—L. S. Weed.

FLUSHING.—R. M. Hatfield.

During the day, members who had not voted on the Providence resolutions cast their ballots, swelling the vote in favor of them to 60, and that against them to 76.

After the reading of the appointments, a hymn, a prayer and a benediction, the Conference adjourned finally.

THE TROY CONFERENCE.

RESOLULIONS RESPECTING SLAVERY.

Correspondence of the New-York Times.

TROY, Monday, April 16, 1860.

The annual session of the Troy Conference commenced at the Methodist Church in Lansingburgh on Wednesday morning last. The place of meeting is three miles north of this city, in a pleasant country town, where the members find hospitable treatment. The Conference embraces Troy, Albany, Western Massachusetts, Northern and Eastern New-York. It is about 200 miles long and 50 wide, and numbers about 250 members.

Over the deliberations of the Conference Bishop BAKER has presided, and Rev. Mr. GRIFFIN, of Albany, has acted as Secretary, filling the arduous duties of this position in an excellent manner. It is supposed that the Conference will adjourn on Wednesday, and the Bishop with his "Cabinet," as the Presiding Elders are called, are deliberating upon the appointments of ministers for the coming year—the last most delicate and important business that is transacted.

The business thus far has been mainly of a routine nature; but, among other things, resolutions have been adopted against the transfer of ministers to this Conference from other Conferences, without the consent of this body; and against the reading of sermons. The Hudson-street Church at Albany has been selected as the next place of meeting.

The following resolutions against Slavery, reported by the Committee having that subject in charge, constitute the leading feature of the proceedings thus far. They were adopted by the overwhelming vote of 147 to 15, showing very conclusively the feeling of the Conference.

The Committee to whom was referred the subject of Slavery ask leave to report the following resolutions for adoption by the Conference:

Resolution 1. That we regard our discipline, in its constitutional provisions, essentially Anti-Slavery; but as this is doubted by some, we think the discipline should be so amended as to make it perfectly clear that it precludes the admission of all who hold slaves for mercenary purposes.

Resolution 2. That we reaffirm our action of last year in regard to changing the rule on Slavery; and shall it be found that none of the proposed changes have the requisite number of votes in the Annual Conference, we do hereby most earnestly memorialize the General Conference to originate a form of the rule to be submitted to the Annual Conference, in accordance with that proposed by the Providence Conference, or something equally explicit.

Resolution 3. That if all proposed changes have failed for the present, as supposed above, that we would have in the next edition of the Discipline an explanatory note appended to the rule, showing that it prohibits all holding of slaves, except when it can be shown that the slave is held purely for his own good.

Resolved, 4. That in the chapter on "Slavery," the second and third paragraphs of the answer to the question, "What shall be done for the extirpation of Slavery?" should be expunged, and the answer read thus "We are more than ever convinced of the great evil of Slavery, and, should it not cease, to seek its extirpation by all wise and prudent means, and that this duty is especially binding upon minisoers laboring in those portions of our work where Slavery exists."

Resolved, 5. That we instruct our delegates to the General Conference to urge and sustain in that body these recommendations.

The delegates appointed to the General Conference, which meets at Buffalo next month, are all in favor of the spirit of these resolutions, and will advocate them strongly. Their names are: A. Witherspoon, Wm. Griffin, D. P. Hurlburd, H. S. Starks, E. Goss, H. Dunn, J. Newman, P. P. Harrower.

The "shears" arrangement is becoming one of the institutions of Troy, and the New-York morning papers arrive with unfailing punctuality. There are at least as many copies of the TIMES taken in Troy as of all the other New-York papers, morning and evening, combined.

PRESBYTERY OF NEW-YORK.

CONDITION OF THE CHURCHES—DELEGATES TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY—CANDIDATES FOR THE MINISTRY.

The semi-annual session of the Presbytery of New-York (Old School) was continued yesterday in Dr. POTTS' Church, from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. The principal business was the reception of verbal reports from the pastors and ruling elders of the different Churches.

Among other interesting statements made, it appeared that the Nineteenth-street Church raised $60,000 last year, and although somewhat embarrassed by the recent loss of their pastor, are otherwise in a flourishing condition. They have 700 members and flourishing Sabbath and industrial schools. The colored Church in Seventh-avenue, of which Mr. WILSON is pastor, is flourishing. Twelve members were added last year on profession of faith. The Sabbath School has 65 children. The Third Presbyterian Church of Jersey City is doing well; has purchased the church edifice of the Reformed Dutch Church. The Staten Island Church is in a flourishing state, and the meetings are well attended. The members have contributed from $2,400 to $2,500 last year—defraying all expenses of the Church. The Haverstraw Church is prospering, and the ill feeling which existed between them and the New School Church has in a great measure subsided. The Greenbush Church hopes to soon become self-sustaining. Mr. IMBRIE, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Jersey City, held out flattering hopes for Presbyterianism in that locality. The Throg's Neck Church has been suffering from transitory population and "fancy prices" for the necessaries of life. The pastor's salary is $800, and he has to pay $500 for rent. Their spiritual condition was, however, encouraging.

The Mariners' Church, under the direction of the Port Society, is flourishing. There have been received on examination 104 members, and on certificate 5. Representatives of the Church are on twenty different men-of-war, on ten of which daily prayer meetings are held. Large representations are also maintained on board merchant ships. There are 554 members, of whom 321 are seamen, the correspondence with whom, coming from all parts of the globe, indicates a zealous endeavor on their part to spread the knowledge of the Truth. One remarkable fact is, that 90 per cent. of the members were baptized in their infancy. Seven young men of the Church are in course of preparation for the ministry. There are six services on the Sabbath, (exclusive of Sabbath School and Bible Class,) and five through the week, including two in foreign languages, and one to colored seamen. The correspondence of the Pastor with members abroad numbers 100 letters a month.

The Nyack Church is prospering. The Sunday-school is doing remarkably well—some of the children committing from two to three thousand verses of the Scriptures each, and none of the pupils being over twelve years of age.

The Yorkville Church has somewhat recovered from adverse circumstances. A portion of the Church has seceded and gone over to the Dutch Reformed, but it is hoped that the parent tree and the branch may both flourish. Dr. KREBS reported that his Church was doing well, and that besides being peaceable, the people of his locality in general observed the Sabbath. He felt much encouraged. Mr. STEIN made a satisfactory report of the German Church in Madison-street. The population is migratory, and while 154 have been admitted, 75 have been dismissed. The Sabbath and Parochial schools are thriving—all speaking well for the religious condition of the German population of the locality.

There are altogether twenty-seven Churches represented in the Presbytery. Mr. BLISS, of the Suffolk North Association, was admitted as a delegate to the Presbytery.

Two clerical and two lay delegates are to be elected to the General Assembly that meets at Rochester on the 17th of May, and candidates for the ministry are also to be examined by the Presbytery.

MEETING OF THE SECOND PRESBYTERY.

OPENING EXERCISES AT THE FOURTEENTH-STREET CHURCH.

The opening exercises of the annual assemblage of the Second Presbytery (Old School) was held last evening in the Lecture-room of the Presbyterian Church, in Fourteenth-street, before a small but interested assemblage. After the singing of a hymn Rev. Mr. HALLIDAY, of Peekskill, addressed the Throne of Grace, and the sermon for the occasion was preached by Rev. Dr. DICKINSON, of Tubby Hook, from the text taken from the 3d chapter of Paul's Epistle to Titus—8th verse—"This is a faithful saying and these things I will that thou affirm, that they which have believed in God, might be careful to maintain good works. These things are good and profitable unto men."

The discourse of the Reverend Divine was as eloquent as it was apposite, and was heard throughout with the deepest interest and attention.

To-day, at 9 o'clock, the regular business of the Presbytery will commence at the same place.

An Ingenious Robbery.

THE ADAMS EXPRESS COMPANY SUFFER—A SAFE CONTAINING $16,000 PUSHED FROM A TRAIN ON THE NEW-HAVEN ROAD.

After the express train from Boston had left New-Haven last evening, the messenger of Adams' Express Company left his apartment to converse with the mail agent. While he was absent from his post, it is supposed that parties who have probably long been on the watch, pushed the safe in which the valuables were deposited from the side door. The packages in the safe contained ten $500 notes on the Atlantic Bank of Boston; $2 900 in bills of small denominations of the Langdon Bank, Dover, N. H.; $755 in Ogdensburgh Bank notes; $620 on the Park Bank of this City; $1,000 on the Mechanics' Banking Association, and $200 on the Shoe and Leather Dealers' Bank in Boston. Other packages, it is estimated, increase the amount which the safe contained to $16,000. Messengers with hand cars and an extra locomotive were dispatched yesterday morning to ascertain, if possible, where the safe was thrown from the car. As the messenger did not discover his loss until reaching this City, he cannot surmise on what part of the route the robbery was perpetrated.

As it is one of the most positive rules of the Express Company that the messenger shall not on any consideration leave the apartment assigned to him, the delinquent, whose neglect afforded an opportunity for the robbers to carry out their scheme, was at once discharged.

The Express Company yesterday promptly cashed all receipts for the packages lost, which were presented.

From the New-Haven Palladium, April 17.

The safe of the Adams Express Company was stolen from the last evening's express train from Boston to New-York. It was a through safe, only opened at Springfield, containing the redemption money of various banks, and which carries from $10,000 to $200,000 every night. At this station it was all right, but was missing in New-York.

It is highly probable that it was thrown from the car between this city and Bridgeport, while the messenger, Mr. ELISHA WOODRUFF, was temporarily absent in another car. Parties of men this morning started from this city and Bridgeport, on foot, examining each side of the railroad track to see if any trace could be found of where the safe was thrown off. From here to Milford has been thoroughly examined, and nothing has been as yet discovered.

New-York officers are on the track of the rogue, or rogues, who committed this bold and so far successful robbery, and there is at least a probability that the money, or a portion of it, may be recovered.

Undoubtedly the robbery was the work of professional thieves from New-York, who have possibly been on the look-out for months for an opportunity to make the haul, and have studied the habits of the messenger, and the baggage-men and mail agents on the route. We understand that the New-York and New-Haven Railroad Company will probably immediately issue positive orders to allow no passengers in the baggage-cars on any excuse in the future.

This heavy loss will teach a lesson in that matter that will not soon be forgotten, whether the safe and its contents are recovered or not, for the railroad companies are as likely to be losers, though not to so great an extent, as the express companies, and self-preservation requires immediate action in the matter. It was in that way that TUCKERMAN, the mail-robber, was enabled to carry out his villainies for so long a time, and undoubtedly this express robbery was by persons who had made some excuse to ride in the baggage-car, although we have no particulars as yet regarding the transaction.

A late dispatch from New-York says, without going into particulars, that the loss is not very heavy. All the dispatches convey the positive belief that the safe must have been thrown from the cars between here and Norwalk; probably between here and Bridgeport, although it was not missed till the train reached New-York.
